Determination...

"I'll show them a thing or two when I get rid of this stuff," says three-year-old Fred Allen Henson of 3715 Tillicum as he prepares for his very first haircut.

...Anticipation...

Vowing he'll make neighborhood playmates take back their "little girl" taunts, Freddie smiles broadly as he sits in the barber's chair waiting to lose his locks.

...Operation...

Growing curious about how things are going, Freddie asks barber William Atkinson for the latest report as the half-way point is reached in the big operation.

...Jubilation

All smiles now and a completely transformed character, Freddie is ready to begin a new life as a real live-wire he-man.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

Smoke Pall in West From Controlled Fire

Heavy dark smoke climbing thousands of feet into the western sky last night, alarming many Victorians, was blamed on a slash fire set by the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Co. northwest of Jordan River. A company official said the blaze was well guarded.

Teacher Protests

Whistle Stop Turnout Compulsory

ABOARD ST. LAURENT TRAIN (BUP)—A teacher at Jasper, Alta., High School charged that a station reception which the students gave Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday was "a compulsory attendance at a political speech."

The teacher, H. T. R. Gilmore, 59, said the school board had ordered the children to attend.

"I think it is an admirable thing to have the children meet the Prime Minister of Canada—at any other time than during an election," Gilmore said. "He is here not as Prime Minister but as a candidate for public office representing his party.

"I do not know why the children should be required to attend any political meeting."

Gilmore said he did not think the board's edict was a political decision. He said he was not the only teacher on the staff of the high school who did not agree with the board's decision.

PRINCIPAL, TOO

A woman standing nearby who refused to give her name said the high school principal Gordon Peers, also opposed the children's attendance at the station.

"Will they do the same for all party leaders?" Gilmore asked. "I would raise considerable uproar if they did not."

About 350 children from the Jasper elementary, junior and senior high schools gave the Prime Minister a rousing, flag-waving reception.

The Prime Minister spoke to them for about 15 minutes. Observers could detect no election plea in comments he made on his liking for children, Canada's greatness, or the bells in the Catholic Church at Compton, Que.

After his speech from the rear platform of his campaign train, Mr. St. Laurent went the rounds, shaking hands with teachers and students and singling some young children out for his special "Uncle Louis" kiss.

At the next stop, Edson, Alta., 130 miles west of Edmonton, about 200 children turned out to greet the Prime Minister. The principal of the Edson Junior and Senior High School, M. D. Meade, said he had announced the Prime Minister's visit and invited any students who wished to go along to "see Uncle Louis."

'Baby-Kissers Not Wanted'

VANCOUVER (CP)—At a Social Credit meeting here last night, Premier Bennett criticized the campaign tactics used by Prime Minister St. Laurent on Vancouver Island last weekend, saying: "The people are intelligent. They don't want baby kissing everywhere. They want public men to discuss public business."

Students Lead Rioters

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—New anti - government demonstrations flared in Bogota late Monday and police broke them up with tear gas and powerful streams of dyed water.

Many students among the demonstrators were reported jailed.

Armored cars guarded the presidential palace.

Student strikes spread. They were countered by government orders to close all schools and universities.

The demonstrations protested reported plans of Rojas to have himself re - elected by a hand-picked Constituent Assembly. They broke out again despite the presence of 35,000 troops in the capital.

Discords Topple Italian Government

ROME (UP)—The middle-of-the-road government of Premier Antonio Segni resigned last night in a political crisis that shattered the ruling coalition.

The premier announced that he handed the resignation of his 22-month-old regime to President Giovanni Gronchi who "reserved decision—the formal statement which is tantamount to acceptance of the resignation.

Segni's resignation became a foregone conclusion when the Social Democrat party under Deputy Premier Guiseppe Saragat decided to withdraw from the three-party regime, leaving only the Christian Democrats and the Liberals.

Observers said a new government would be formed under one of three possible arrangements:

1. A reunion of the leading parties in a coalition.

2. A government of Christian Democrats and Social Democrats which would exclude the Liberals but include the Republicans who quit the coalition last February.

3. A temporary regime of Christian Democrats, the leading party, to tide the country over the crisis.

In any event, observers said, both Segni and Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino, a Liberal, would be eliminated from any new government.

Queen's Help Asked With 'Naughty Ghosts'

DUDLEY, England (AP) — The Westwoods have sent a petition to the Queen asking help in getting rid of "nine naughty ghosts" who haunt their home. They describe the ghost leader as a "high-spirited, devil - may - care, Victorian blonde."

It wasn't clear just what the Westwoods expect the Queen to do.

Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Edward Westwood and their family — five sons and four daughters—moved into the Jolly Corner, a former inn in this quiet Worcestershire village. Mrs. Westwood told a Sunday newspaper here's what happened.

First, the Victorian blonde popped up—right out of the "naughty nineties." She was so fetching that eight men ghosts followed her in haunting the old inn. One wears a derby.

"The blonde," said Mrs. Westwood, "is a siren.

"She causes my young sons some sleepless nights. The whole pack haunt us all over the house and indulge in acts of wildness."

Ottawa Wants 'Direct Interest'

Strings on Power Offer Disclosed by Sinclair

Move by Political Foe Likely to Anger Bennett

Ottawa last night disclosed there are strings on its offer of unlimited help to develop power on the Columbia River.

Within hours of Premier W. A. C. Bennett's statement that B.C. would accept the principle of federal-provincial financing, presumably by public power interests, Federal Fisheries Minister James Sinclair said Ottawa would never hand out $300,000,000 "without having some direct interest." (See story on Page 3.)

Mr. Sinclair suggested a joint federal-provincial Crown company or "doing some of the work ourselves."

Making his first campaign speech at Gibsons, Mr. Sinclair said:

'SOME SAY'

"We have told the province there is no limit to Ottawa's help toward building whatever is agreed upon, but we are going to have some say in the matter."

Mr. Sinclair quoted Mr. Bennett as saying B.C. would not accept joint participation.

The premier and Mr. Sinclair are political enemies, and the minister's announcement of Ottawa plans in his Coast-Capilano riding before a federal election irked Mr. Bennett. The premier has insisted that Ottawa should make a formal offer to the province.

ALL OVER AGAIN

Last night's comments by Mr. Sinclair at a political rally are expected to irritate the premier all over again.

Mr. Bennett's guarded acceptance yesterday came after Prime Minister St. Laurent passed through Victoria. Neither man made any move toward a meeting.

Discussing reasons why Canada has not recognized China, Mr. Sinclair said there was a general feeling growing that China might be ready to conform with international law, a move in the right direction.

"If we could recognize China it would eventually lead to a considerable trade which would greatly affect the port of Vancouver," he said.

Mr. Sinclair said no province has had a better deal from the federal government than B.C. In the last financial year, he said, Ottawa obtained $293,000,000 in taxes from B.C., but spent some $373,000,000.

"The B.C. government gets money from Ottawa, spends it, and then complains about high taxation," Mr. Sinclair said.

Tear Gas Used

Indonesian Riot Greets Red Chief

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Demonstrators threatened to mob Soviet President Klementi Y. Voroshilov on his arrival for a state visit Monday and police had to use tear gas to disperse them.

A 21-gun salute greeted Voroshilov at the airport, where he told welcomers that "imperialists" are endangering world peace. But outside the presidential palace later, a near riot developed amid shouts of 'better go home than give this man a hearty welcome." Posters carrying Voroshilov's picture were ripped up and it was touch-and-go until police went into action.

On his arrival from a long visit in Red China, Voroshilov said at the airport:

"At present, imperialist forces are pursuing a policy which increases world tension by an arms race in nuclear weapons.

"FRIENDSHIP MISSION"

"Imperialist forces are tending to hamper co-operation in economic and cultural fields throughout the world."

He told the crowd of 100,000:

"We have come to Indonesia on a mission of friendship."

The national radio had exhorted the population to give the Soviet president as hearty a welcome as President Sukarno received during his Russian visit last November. Many, however, seemed critical.

Low Attacks 'Tight Money'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Solon Low, national Social Credit leader, accused the federal government Monday night of holding back immigration until its "tight money" policy cut home construction by half and threw many people out of work.

In the last major address of his three-day British Columbia campaign tour Mr. Low also told a capacity crowd of 2,500 in Vancouver's Georgia Auditorium that next winter the housing shortage will generate "the most critical social problem that this country has ever faced."

Four Knights Advise:

More Popular Songs, Less Rock and Roll

By BRUCE LOWTHER

Reform the hit parade and you'll hear less of rock 'n' roll.

Cliff Holland, soloist and second tenor with The Four Knights, says the hit parade must become a properly chosen list so periodic music crazes can be put in their proper places.

"Calypso is just about gone as fast as it came in and I'm sure rock 'n' roll will pass," he said. "But popular tunes will never die."

Left to right as they stand on stage, bass Oscar Broadway, baritone Clarence Dixon, Holland and first tenor Johnny Wallace, The Four Knights will be in town all week, singing at 3 p.m. and 10.15 p.m. daily at the Jaycees' exhibition.

While they "cover the hit parade," they concentrate on standards and spirituals in the 250-song repertoire.

They sing their 1,000,000-recording numbers, "I Get So Lonely," "Oh Happy Day," "Charmaine" and "It's a Sin to Tell a Lie." And, says tenor Holland, "we almost always include 'Dry Bones,' and we try to make rock 'n' roll musically satisfying."

Also included is their latest, "How Can You Not Believe," which the tenor said "seems to be crackin' through the rock 'n' roll on the hit parade."

The trouble with the hit parade is first that the recording companies tell their singers to do the songs any way they like, "as crudely as possible, as little understandable as possible, it doesn't matter because the youngsters will buy it.

"That's an insult to their intelligence," said Mr. Holland.

Children should be "approached right," but the disc jockeys have to go with the big names on lists from music publications.

What should be done, he feels, is the listing of rock 'n' roll, popular tunes, Dixieland and other styles separately, then give equally wide circulation to each list.

Would that make it possible to get music like that of the days of "Stardust"?

"It would be inevitable," said tenor Holland.

In the 14 years since The Four Knights started in Charlotte, N.C., "we've built a reputation as singers of popular songs, and no matter what the trend, we average 500,000 recordings sold a year."

Teen-Age Indians' Hall Objective of Fund Drive

A campaign to raise funds for a community hall especially for the benefit of teenagers of the Songhees Indian Reserve has been launched by Mrs. Sam Joseph, 1496 Admirals Road.

"Indian children have nothing to do, nothing to keep them busy during the winter months," she said. "It's having a demoralizing effect on them."

A recreational hall, Mrs. Joseph said, would give the 70 children on the reserve an opportunity to participate in sports and other activities.

Her campaign has the support of Chief Arthur Albany and the Indian Arts and Welfare Society.

Residents Oppose . . . . . . Beach Improvement

'$46,000 to Ruin Willows'

Proposed improvement of Willows Beach met opposition from a delegation of water front residents at the Oak Bay council meeting last night.

The improvement, under the Capital Improvement District Commission, calls for an extended seawall from Dalhousie to Thorpe Place and a parking area for 50 cars.

[illegible] Place, told council he felt something had "gone astray" when the residents in the area affected were not told of the plans.

In a series of suggestions to the council Mr. Smith recommended that there be no parking area on the beach. Main objection was the proposed projected road allowances at Dalhousie and Uplands Park ends of the development.

"Property owners facing the parking area are concerned about this," he said.

Concern was also expressed by Justin Harbord, 2700 Beach, who told the council that if parking was planned, it should be for 500 and not 50 cars.

"A parking area for 50 cars would be ridiculous," Mr. Harbord said. "All we are doing is attracting hordes of automobiles we cannot handle."

He said certain parts of the plan would ruin Willows Beach.

"We are not impressed by the fact that the government (through the Capital Improvement District Commission) is giving $46,000 to ruin one of the main assets of Oak Bay," Mr. Harbord said.

Reeve Fred Norris told the delegation the council could not amend or delete anything from the commission-approved plan.

He suggested residents approach the commission.

Another delegation representing 53 Oak Bay merchants presented a petition asking the council for store closing all day Monday instead of Wednesday afternoon.

Jack Connolly presented the petition to the council.

Reeve Fred Norris said the council would send out a questionaire asking the merchants if they preferred Monday rather than Wednesday for a half-day closing.

"We do not have power to call for full-day closings, only half-day. Full day closing is up to the individual merchants," the reeve said.

Two general managers of the Canadian Westinghouse Company have been elected vice-presidents of the company. They are, E. E. Orlando, of the district apparatus division, and J. A. Camparno of the project development group.

NEW REMINGTON ROLLECTRIC

shaves your Hidden Beard!

Here's the first really new shaving development since electric shaving first began!

The Remington Rollectric reaches the Hidden Beard other shaving methods miss. (See the pictures at right—they show how the Rollectric does a shaving job that's never been done before.)

The Rollectric's exclusive Roller Comb action also protects tender facial skin, gives a smooth, all-comfort shave every time! The Rollectric's fast, too, because it's the world's most powerful electric shaver. Yes, the new Remington Rollectric makes all other shaving methods obsolete!

The Rollectric comes complete in a handsome suede travel case . . . see it at your dealer's today!

Here's your hidden beard. Whiskers grow in tiny valleys. Ordinary shavers skim the tops of these valleys—shave only the tops of whiskers. Soon each whisker base grows out and your Hidden Beard can be seen and felt.

Here's how Remington gets it. The Rollectric's Roller Combs gently press the valleys down—pop up whisker bases into path of man-sized shaving head. Each whisker is sheared off at its base—cleanly, comfortably, quickly.

Public Power Interests... ...Likely to Harness Columbia

Bennett Likes River Plan

By PETER BRUTON

Public power interests appear to have won the fight for the right to harness the tremendous hydro-electric power potential of the Columbia River.

Premier Bennett hasn't said so exactly but this was the only conclusion to be drawn from his acknowledgment yesterday that B.C. would accept the principle of federal-provincial financing of the multi-million-dollar project.

He said B.C. would accept one of two forms of federal assistance:

Substantial outright grants.

Low-interest, long-term loans.

Did this mean the provincial government was prepared to make a public project of the Columbia?

"You can surmise what you like," the premier said. "But you ask me if we would guarantee bonds of a private company if we got such federal assistance. The answer is no."

Not Official

Although the federal government has made no official offer of aid to the government directly, Prime Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet colleagues have made frequent announcements to the press that they were willing to share the cost of such a development.

Main proviso in the federal offer is that the joint sharing in the cost would only be possible if public power interests were given the job over free enterprise.

The premier has consistently refused to say whether public or private concerns would be given the plum. Up until yesterday he had referred to the federal offer as "election talk" and "Liberal propaganda."

A reporter asked him if he agreed the Columbia should be developed by a federal-provincial crown corporation.

"I'm not going beyond my statement," the premier said.

His announcement followed other fast-moving developments on the Columbia River situation. They were:

The B.C. Chamber of Commerce, by a vote of 35 to 20, supported a resolution calling for the B.C. Power Commission to develop a hydro plant at Mica Creek.

National Social Credit leader Solon Low, here in Victoria yesterday, said his movement generally stood for free enterprise but "we do say there are times when public enterprise is wiser." He was speaking about power development at the time.

Leader of the Opposition Robert Strachan of the CCF said he still felt, despite the premier's latest announcement, that Premier Bennett was still "dickering with private power concerns" over the development of the Columbia.

Premier Bennett opened his press conference yesterday morning by expressing his disappointment that Prime Minister St. Laurent hadn't caller on him during his weekend campaign visit to Victoria.

(Mr. Strachan, on the other hand, said Premier Bennett should have sought an audience with the prime minister. "He let his pride and prejudice get the better of him by not trying to see Mr. St. Laurent," the CCF leader said. "If he was really interested he would have found out just what the federal government offered.)

"I thought the prime minister would have made a direct approach while he was here," said Premier Bennett. "I want to make it clear we have always asked the federal government for joint co-operation in the development of our resources."

"Does that include the Columbia?" a newsman asked.

"It includes everything," the premier said.

Help Slim

He added that the federal aid, however, had been slim on highways, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and other projects.

"If they are willing to make substantial grants on the Columbie they would be accepted by B.C." he continued. "This we prefer.

"But if they offered long-term, low-interest loans below the market price—we can always get market rates ourselves—we will accept," he added.

The premier was asked if he would use such federal aid to back borrowings of a private concern like the B.C. Electric for development of the Columbia.

"We would never guarantee a private company's bonds," he answered.

Delay Scored

At the same time the premier criticized Ottawa for the delay in negotiations with the U.S. over the question of downstream benefits that are involved in the development.

"Ottawa is dilly-dallying and holding up the development of the Columbia," Premier Bennett charged. "I know there is another meeting in Washington on May 15 but they are going too slow."

He said Ottawa was "playing politics" with B.C.'s natural resources.

B.C. would do its utmost to see the province got the proper downstream benefits and unless this happened "we will veto negotiations," he said.

Solon Low, on a flying visit to Victoria, told press reporters that "there is a place for public power" in Canada.

"Do you figure the Columbia is it?" he was asked.

"I don't know enough about it," he said.

Mr. Low said the development of the Columbia was a national responsibility only up to the point where it was necessary to clear up international complications.

"After that it is strictly up to the province," he stated. "These people here (provincial experts) have got it in hand. They know what is needed and will do what's best for the province.

He said the export of power depended on the supply available and "If we have an excess . . . I imagine export can be arranged on a temporary basis."

(Premier Bennett and the provincial government is firmly against any export of power.)

Mr. Low said the famous Bill Three, with which the federal government had prevented B.C. from entering an agreement with Kaiser Aluinum for a dam at Castlegar, had now been amended and was no longer objectionable.

"It's not necessary to repeal it," he said.

Borrowed Prize

CCFer Has Doubts

VANCOUVER (CP) — CCF Opposition Leader Robert Strachan said yesterday he "viewed with doubt" Premier Bennett's statement that the Social Credit government will accept federal aid in development of the Columbia River.

Mr. Strachan's statement came after Premier W. A. C. Bennett told a press conference in Victoria that the provincial government would accept federal aid in the form of outright grants or low interest long-term loans.

"He (Bennett) still won't say whether he favors public power," Mr. Strachan said.

"He says he'd like federal assistance, but leaves up in the air the question of public vs. private power. All this knowing full well the federal offer is tied to development of the Columbia as a public power project."

Polish Mob Stones Police

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The story of a big riot, which seems to have had military overtones, came out of the garrison town of Jaroslaw Monday. The riot apparently was the result of the arrest of a soldier for drunkeness late last week.

The police station of Jaroslaw, near the Soviet Ukrainian frontier 170 miles southeast of Warsaw, was reported stoned by a mob of several hundred persons. The police responded with tear gas. More than 1,000 security men—troops and reserve police — were called in to quell the disturbance.

Forest Industry Stressing Safety

British Columbia's forest industry is in the midst of a Safety Week campaign, from yesterday through Saturday.

Sponsored by government, labor and management organizations, the drive last year resulted in a 50 per cent reduction in accidents, according to Workmen's Compensation Board officials.

Accident rate for the forest products industry in B.C. in 1956 dropped to an all-time low, they said. In the logging industry alone, there were fewer than 100 accidents.

Williston Named PGE Director

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston yesterday was appointed a director of the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

He rpelaces former agriculture minister Ralph Chetwynd, who died earlier this year.

Drifting Ice Blocks Four Maritime Ports

HALIFAX (BUP)—Drift ice described as the worst in 20 years yesterday clogged four maritime ports and slowed shipping as ice-breakers fought to clear channels around the Nova Scotia and Newfoundland coasts.

Cape Breton has been under seige by the ice for several days.

The harbors of St. John's and Corner Brook, Nfld., and Sydney and Louisbourg, N.S., remained blocked by the ice, which was more than 15 feet thick in places.

Round One—A Blank

BILLED as the opening of the Liberal Party's campaign in the West for re-election on June 10, the Vancouver and Victoria rallies with Prime Minister St. Laurent in the spotlight both seem to have fizzled. If Mr. St. Laurent was counted upon as the "big gun" in the political battle, on both these occasions he fired a blank. His Victoria address—a 50-minute speech of copybook maxims on the ideal in international relations—might have served at the commencement exercises of some girls' boarding school or at a quarterly meeting of the United Nations Association, but as a campaign speech by the leader of his party it was astonishingly ineffectual, in subject matter and delivery.

At the Victoria rally, the Prime Minister seemed both tired and dispirited, and his fatigue was so obvious that it earned for him the sympathy of the audience. Hecklers forgot to heckle. Claquers ceased to clap. Everybody seemed relieved when what seemed to be an ordeal to its principal participant ended. In the text of Mr. St. Laurent's remarks there was little at which anyone could take exception. He studiously avoided Canadian internal affairs, the pipeline hassle in Parliament, and the Liberal record; perhaps in deference to Victoria's position as the capital of what is today a provincial government of a contrary stripe. But that does not explain policies nor enlighten the electorate.

At the end of the Royal Theatre meeting Victorians were left wondering when the "big guns" of Liberals' campaign for re-election will be fired here. Certainly neither Defence Minister Campney nor Dr. F. T. Fairey did anything to retrieve the fortunes of a completely dull meeting. The minister of defence was laughed at. Dr. Fairey won a round of thin official applause, which waned quickly. Only Mr. Alistair Fraser, with a two-minute spot at the end of the meeting, held the interest of the large gathering, in what on all counts was the most lack-lustre and spiritless campaign initiation the electorate has endured—for that is the only word—for a long time.

This experience certainly must affect the fortunes of the Liberals in this area. It will be difficult for their supporters to convince the electorate that they are strong and vigorously led, or that they, and only they according to the boast, can administer the affairs of Canada.

A Price on His Head

THE provincial centennial committee has turned thumbs down on the Harrison group that wanted it to subsidize a hunt for that elusive Abominable Snowman of B.C., the Sasquatch. Since this can scarcely be regarded as a permanent memorial to next year's hundredth birthday—unless perhaps he, or it, was captured and kept on view in Stanley Park—such an expedition does not qualify for a grant. What the committee will do, however, is give a prize of $5,000 for the first Sasquatch to be found anywhere in B.C.

This is a good offer; one does not remember the Himalayas' snowman having so high a price put on his head. It should spur all kinds of expeditions, for the Sasquatch does not stay in one place. He has been reported—long ago, unfortunately—in such widely separated areas as the Rockies, the Harrison district, and Vancouver Island. There is possibly some disappointment regarding his stature, now said to be anywhere from four-feet-seven to seven-feet-four. That would merely make him eligible for the prize-ring or the basketball floor. Since no recent eye has seen him, however, he may really be much larger. If worth $5,000 he certainly ought to measure at least 15 feet.

Perhaps the committee's offer was meant only to discourage a search; one is inclined to hope so. One hates to think of yet another freedom being circumscribed, and this prehistoric native creature must be the freest of the free. Since he is said to wear no clothes obviously he has no tailor's bills to pay. He enjoys the full benefits of nature gratis and for nothing. Food, shelter and drink are his for the asking. He pays no taxes, nor need he listen to the blandishments of election campaign orators. It may be that radio has impinged on his ears, and therefore no coincidence that allegedly he has not been seen since this instrument began to dominate the air. On the whole however he has escaped the blessings of civilization.

Were he to be captured doubtless he would be put in a cage, or, perhaps, persuaded against his will to join the Liberal Party. On either count therefore we hope he continues to elude his would-be pursuers. As an Abominable Snowman he may really be much better off than those whom with some right he might consider equally abominable.

Warning It Pays To Heed

FAMILIARITY with the "Checked by Radar" signs posted at intervals along the Trans-Canada Highway on Vancouver Island seems to have bred the proverbial contempt, which for a great many motorists is proving costly. Since the RCMP radar detachment went into action on the Island last year more than 200 drivers have been convicted on the corroborative evidence of excessive speed this ingenious invention has provided for the courts. The roving detachment, which may be in one place today and miles away tomorrow, has been pulling motorists into court at centres all along the highway as part of the RCMP effort to convince fast drivers that it pays to obey the speed restrictions.

Those 200-odd drivers, many of whom had their licences suspended as well as being fined, now know that the signs mean what they say. How many more would have been caught by the radar traps if the signs were not there it would be impossible to guess. Probably the total would be many times 200, for the average driver when he sees the sign decides to "play it safe."

That is the chief purpose of the police in giving this more than fair warning. If it were only convictions the RCMP was after the highway patrol officers could get more than the courts could handle by taking speeding drivers completely by surprise. The police are not under legal or moral obligation to warn those who break the speed law that they are liable to be prosecuted. Such people are no more entitled to a sporting chance than any other fugitive who has committed a crime. The purpose of the police in this instance, however, is to make the highways safe for other people, and the "Checked by Radar" signs are put there as a means of persuading motorists to drive within the speed limit.

The signs offer a friendly warning which obviously, judged from the court records of the past few months, it pays to heed.

Interpreting the News

Renew Iron Curtain Links

By BERNARD KAPLAN
North American Newspaper Alliance

PARIS — Reversing the decision unanimously taken when Russia crushed the Hungarian revolution last fall, the Western Powers have quietly decided to re-establish "cultural" contacts as far as possible behind the Iron Curtain.

Observers here see this as a move of utmost significance, indicating that Paris, London and Washington have come to the considered conclusion that the satellites' period of turmoil and change is not ended.

As a initial step, a Rumanian government cultural delegation—the first mission of its kind since Hungary—has been welcomed here with outward displays of friendliness and good will which would almost make it appear the French had forgotten the rape of Budapest and were unaware Rumania too is as tightly clasped in the Soviet grip as ever. But this is actually far from the case.

* * *

The head of the delegation, Mihail Ralea, president of the Rumanian Academy of Arts and Sciences, must be rated absolutely trustworthy by his Russian bosses or he would not hold the job nor be free to travel in the West. However, this has not prevented him from being received by senior foreign ministry officials here and feted by leading French intellectual groups, though in at least one instance only after a broad hint from government quarters.

Indications are that the visit of the Rumanians is only the first of an expected trek of satellite cultural ambassadors headed this way during the coming months. Even Franco-Soviet exchanges are judged probable again, though the peak activity of last summer—when officially sponsored Russians and Frenchmen were commuting between Moscow and Paris in droves—is unlikely to be attained.

* * *

These developments, however they may appear on the surface, are not proof of short-lived official memories or cynicism in top places. They are understood to be based on mounting conviction among Western officials that the tight, post-Hungary Soviet grip on the satellites may slacken before very long. The chief reason behind this belief, according to a French foreign ministry expert, is the economic situation within the Soviet bloc:

"It is not improving fast enough and the possibility can't be ruled out that Moscow eventually may decide it necessary to give the satellites limited freedom to negotiate for economic bolstering outside of the bloc, just as Poland is doing," he said.

This is the reasoning behind the Western decision that the most practical step they can take at the moment is to display renewed willingness to keep in contact with the satellites and be prepared to exploit any opportunities which may arise.

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

YOURS truly is feeling mighty low. He has lost a friend; the amulet, the poet sang, that charms afar unrest and sorrow.

To wit: his favorite cigarette.

The verdict came the other day, from his tobacconist, in dulcet, sympathetic tones: "VOs are going out of circulation."

Why this should be so passeth his understanding, for each whiff was the panacea that Robert Burton set high above all philosophers' stones. But the rude ways of tobacco manufacture are beyond his ken.

Enough, alas, that he has to search for a substitute.

The loss bears heavily upon him. He has been savoring VO—not to be confused with a liquid sharing these initials—for eight years now. And strangely enough, because of an accident.

Well, it wasn't exactly an accident. To be truthful it was the result of a cold he had. The more he smoked the more he coughed, and since it was not in the nature of things that he should cease smoking, he sought the advice of a friend in the trade.

Try VOs his friend said, they are nice and mild. So he tried them and found them so delightful that he stayed with them when his cold got better.

It was rather awkward at first; not many stores carried this particular cigarette. And when his business habitat was removed from the centre of town he had to plan his purchase campaign.

* * *

First, through the good graces of a nearby corner store which promised to stock them for him, he secured a permanent, central base. Then, having in mind that on accasion he would run out — a smoking term — when elsewhere, he scouted the land like any general would.

He proved a good general. He plotted on his mental map the places prescient enough to carry VO on their shelves, chosen strategically to cover a fairly wide area. That settled all future logistic problems.

His cigarette was cork-tipped, and it came in a neat blue box. Since this is one of his preferred colors his aesthetic taste was as well served as his palate. The uncorked version came in a neat red box, another hue that offered no offence.

Either blue or red the box looked superior when drawn from the pocket. It had an air. It was removed from the commonalty, as it were. Yours truly is really quite a modest chap but he did take some small pride in such a circumstance.

Nor, to his credit, did he mind sharing his good fortune with those less fortunate.

Now, alas, that belongs to the past. By the time you read this he will have secured and savored the last VO to be had. It can be understood therefore why he is feeling mighty low.

There are other brands, naturally, and if perchance you are a stranger to the herb Charles Kingsley affirmed was the finest under the whole canopy of heaven, you will think he can easily get a substitute.

He does not agree, however. It took him umpteen years to discover this particular delight, and he does not expect quickly to become reconciled to a change.

There is, perhaps, one slight compensation. VOs cost four cents a package more than other brands. He should save some money.

Reports from Ottawa

IF John Diefenbaker hadn't made it clear before that in his opinion what the Grits are doing to this country shouldn't happen to Canada, he has made that quite plain in the last two weeks.

From his Toronto opener to his comments in Saint John, N.B., the Tory chief has been trumpeting charges and dangling promises which add up to the "issues of the 1957 election" insofar as he is able to decide them. They are the grounds on which he asks the voters to instal him as prime minister after June 10, in place of Louis St. Laurent.

Whether they will move enough people to vote Tory is quite another matter. But as a result of Diefenbaker's pronouncements, the voters can now get a good look at much of what the Conservatives may be expected to try to do if they get into power.

* * *

Diefenbaker has produced nothing as clear and concise as George Drew's 16-point election manifesto of 1953, but considering what happened to the Tories in 1953, maybe it's just as well.

Actually Diefenbaker seems to be basing his bid on three major points:

1. The administration's alleged economic errors in guiding the national economy; and fiscal injustice toward the people, the provinces and the municipalities.

2. The allegedly reprehensible treatment of Parliament by this "arrogant" government.

3. An assortment of promises that a Conservative government will, among other things, cut taxes, boost social security benefits, foster exports, curb monopoly in broadcasting and aviation, bring in more immigrants, "restore the supremacy" of Parliament, and give a new deal to the provincial and municipal governments and the farmers and working men.

The Conservatives have plenty of latitude under these general headings. For example, the celebrated Norman case turns up as a particularly lurid example of point two above, showing how the government withholds information from Parliament, refuses to answer questions, and makes misleading and untrue statements in the Commons.

* * *

Diefenbaker may not have yet disclosed all the plans and pledges which will have passed his lips by election time. But the main issues are out—and some of them seem deliberately nebulous.

He criticizes the Liberals for the meanness of the $6-a-month increase in old-age pensions and other social security benefits, but he doesn't promise to boost the increase to $10 or any other definite figure. Instead, he speaks of the U.S. social security program's sharply higher payments, and says that as prime minister he would investigate the U.S. program to see if it could be applied advantageously to Canada.

Not too much time seems to be spent pointing out that the U.S. program is financed by substantial payroll deductions.

Diefenbaker sees a danger of a "one party state" if the Liberals win. In a word, dictatorship. But I think the voters regard him and his party more highly than that. After all, the Conservatives were more effective in opposition during the last two years than they had been in a decade. They trimmed the government's emergency powers bill in 1955, and they won a moral victory in the gas pipeline debate last year.

But somehow I don't think the Tories particularly want recognition right now as a good opposition.

The Packsack

Vanished Challenge

THOUGH the cigaret habit has grown enormously in recent years, so that you seldom encounter anybody who doesn't smoke, man or woman, it is a curious thing that so few small boys are to be seen smoking.

In my boyhood you could hardly look behind a fence without catching two or three ten-year-olds having a whiff—sometimes real cigarets that they had filched from a sporty older brother; sometimes imitation cigarets of cedar bark, dried fern or rattan off a baby carriage or porch chair. Rattan made a dandy cigaret. It was full of holes, drew beautifully, though it was hotter than a linseed poultice.

Indeed, if memory does not delude me, you would see more little boys stealing a smoke behind a fence or back shed than you would see adults. Maybe this was because I was always looking behind fences and back sheds for a good place to have one myself. But it does seem to me that back around 1900 those adults who smoked cigarets were the sporty type; young men with hats on the sides of their heads; older men who could not help but look a little self-conscious. For cigars and pipes were the man's smoke. And of course a good deal of chewing. The school principal in my childhood chewed. We all knew it, but it was a secret we were all supposed to share with him. It was generally accepted that he swallowed the juice, which accounted for his angry temper. Nobody ever saw him spit.

And naturally, no lady smoked. Even in the burlesque shows (to which you started to go when you were about fifteen, taking a seat far back in the shadows) when one of the actresses lit a cigaret on the stage there was a definite sense of shock.

Then, of course, there was a very large constituency of the public which did not smoke at all. I had all sorts of relatives, male as well as female, who abhorred "the weed," and when they visited us my father had to go out and walk in the back yard for a smoke. There were smoking-rooms on trains, in hotel lobbies, and other places of assembly. Smoking room stories were the kind you heard in these places of banishment.

Some little boys tried pipes and cigars, with sad effect. It was cigarets that appealed to the juniors. And the strange thing is that now that cigarets are in universal use and are lying about all over the place in nearly every home, you never see very small boys trying their hand at the vice.

The reason may be that it is too

Hot Atoms by Air

Myriad Uses For Isotopes

By NIGEL CALDER
Staff writer on The New Scientist, London

A FAST airliner from Britain touches down and the passengers, with the air of London barely out of their lungs, come down the gangway. Then, unobtrusively, an official extracts from the wing-tip of the aircraft a small container. Here is another express consignment of atoms.

Every week, from its laboratories at Harwell and its Radiochemical Centre at Amersham, the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority dispatches more than two hundred samples of "radioactive isotopes" to countries overseas. They are atoms of familar chemical elements like carbon, phosphorus, iodine and gold, but they are "hot"—giving off atomic rays during a process of radioactive decay.

* * *

Many radioactive materials lose their radioactivity rapidly — sodium for example loses half its strength in 15 hours—and because they decay in a few days and give out dangerous amounts of radiation this "half-life," as it is called, is so short consignments have to go by air. Because of the weight of protective containers this was an expensive undertaking, making medical use costly, until Dr. E. C. Halliday of Pretoria hit on the idea of carrying them in the wing-tips. This is now a normal facility in British aircraft.

Ordinary atoms can be made into radioactive isotopes by "cooking" them in a nuclear reactor; some are to be found in the spent fuel-rods of the reactor—the fragments of split uranium atoms. By whatever means they are created, they have an astonishing variety of uses.

* * *

The medical applications are well known. Radioactive cobalt, Co-60, makes a cheap substitute for radium in treating deep-seated cancer, and its powerful gamma rays destroy the cancer as surely as a surgeon's knife. For other cancers and tumors, there is radioactive gold, Au-198. And many hospitals receive radioactive iodine, I-131, for the diagnosis and treatment of thyroid trouble.

Atomic rays can penetrate deep into foodstuffs and interrupt the normal living processes which make them deteriorate. Raw beef will keep about three or four times longer in a refrigerator if it is first treated with atomic rays. Harmful parasites in pork and poisonous bacteria in eggs can be destroyed in the same way. But the taste of the food may be affected, so there are still difficulties preventing the immediate adoption of the techniques.

* * *

Almost every industry has jobs where "hot" atoms can help to make things go more slickly. Let me give a few samples out of hundreds.

Perhaps you are a water engineer and you want to find a leak in an underground pipe. If you just introduce a harmless amount of radioactivity into the water you can follow its progress from above ground with a Geiger counter.

If you make petrol engines, it would be useful for you to know how quickly a piston becomes worn in various circumstances. You can send the piston to Harwell and get them to cook it in a reactor so that the metal becomes radioactive. Then you can put it in the engine and detect the minutest amount of wear by testing the oil for radioactivity.

You will almost certainly want to check your castings by radiography to make sure there are no hidden flaws; you could use a cumbersome and expensive X-ray machine, but it is much easier just to put a speck of radioactive caesium, Cs-137, on one side of the casting and a photographic plate on the other.

* * *

But this is just the beginning of the radio-isotope story. It is little more than ten years since "hot" atoms came on the market. Already chemists have found that they can use atomic rays in making new plastics and synthetic rubbers and for vulcanizing natural rubber.

And scientists investigating the chemical process of life can introduce radioactive "tracers" into a living organism: the "hot" atoms go through the same chemical antics as their stable counterparts, but they give themselves away by their radioactivity. One of the mysteries investigated in this way is the chemical effect of sunlight on plants.

Fat-head Prose

Fat-head prose makes fat-head laws. Loose, foolish, slap-dash writing is the product of loose, foolish, slap-dash thinking—for writing is thinking and the style is a reflection of the writer. We live in a country which has small respect for good prose—which reflects its lack of concern for clear thinking.

Two or three of Canada's ablest writers are employed in the civil service. But, alas, several score of its most irresponsible abusers of the King's English draw their pay there, as well.

Insolent Slander

The Liberal Party advertisements have on them "Vote Canada—Vote Liberal". The obvious inference is that if you vote for one of the other parties you are voting against Canada.

This appears very much like a slander on all who do not see eye to eye with the Liberals and does not come very well from a party whose government has so frequently knuckled under to the U.S.A., as it has in regard to the recognition of China, as it has in regard to the UN com- [illegible] also as it, together with the government of Ontario, put up over $180,000,000 to finance the construction of the cross-Canada gas pipeline in the interests of a company controlled by and profitable to citizens of the U.S.A.

Surely this is coming pretty close to a smear campaign when this Liberal party infers that all other parties are un-Canadian? This is an insolance that all decent people of all parties, or none, will strongly resent.

Grateful Thanks

Would you please permit me to express my sincere thanks to all those who have such good wishes to my family.

My wife Elena, my son Horst, arrived from Romani at midnight Wednesday, after 13 years that we have been apart.

We would like to thank the national commissioner of the Red Cross of Canada, Dr. W. S. Stanbury, MD., Lieut.Col. C. A. Scott, commissioner, B.C. Division, Canadian Red Cross, and the whole staff of the Victoria Red Cross, Dr. Jardine, Mrs. Jean Pearce, Mrs. Curtis and city alderman Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

The Red Cross is the only agency which could have brought them to freedom.

Our thanks too for many kindnesses to the department of citizenship and immigration, to the TCA officials, CJVI, CHEK-TV, CKDA, Victoria Daily Times, Victoria Daily Colonist and my employers and members of the Pacific Club.

Above all, we give thanks to God for bringing us together again in this free and wonderful land.

Gratefully,
JACOB HEIMBACH.

Dollar Stability

Richard Thomas in his "Letter from London" concludes his article on the inflation in England with the words, "If someone can stabilize the value of money the world will be a happier place. It would become worth hanging on to."

Since the cost-of-living index in Canada has risen 3.7 per cent in the last year Canadians also should be interested in any method of controlling inflation. And yet when Governor James Coyne of the Bank of Canada proposed that the prerequisite step be taken that would stabilize the value of the dollar, both the bankers and the politicians opposed his plan that the assets, liabilities and operations of the commercial and savings banks should be separated.

Governor Coyne's proposal is the first step; unhoardable bank credit and currency is the final step needed to halt inflation.

Election Gimmick

In your May 1 issue Mr. W. J. Hyde calls for a Tory win as a rebuke to the Liberals on the pension issue. May I point out that the CCF demanded $65 a month last year. At that time it was related to the national production. A more realistic figure now, on a similar basis, is $75 a month as the CCF calls for.

The Tory offer now must be considered only an election gimmick, since it is based on no apparent relationship to production. I agree the "Liberal" $6 is an insult; the Socred $60 is not much better (and adds $40, only on a means test).

The CCF demand of $75 is a realistic immediate step toward implementing its program to "Share Canada's Wealth."

Foolish Argument

Our worthy mayor and council are patting themselves on their backs for saving a few dollars by refusing to install urgently needed traffic lights.

Are they still living in the horse and buggy age? How many have to be killed on a particular street crossing before they will part with a penny? The accident wards of our hospital are a daily witness to the folly of their short-sighted policy.

When an alderman asks for a traffic light at Quadra and Bay the mayor replies that this crossing is no worse than St. Charles and Fort. What an argument! Because one crossing is no worse than the worst, neither of them gets a traffic light.

The Useful Dandelion

Is it not a little drastic to proclaim the lowly dandelion a "noxious weed," to be classed with Russian thistle and redroot, etc?

Dandelion is a valuable plant in many ways. It makes a very good wine, or spring tonic; its roots are an excellent substitute for coffee, and its leaves a welcome addition to any salad.

I could name several much more noxious weeds, such as couch grass, morning glory, etc. Dandelion is quite easily eradicated from the lawn, and certainly does little harm elsewhere. It may be regarded as a weed, perhaps, but it certainly is not a noxious one. Evidently there is no one in the provincial cabinet who knows anything about natural herbs.

LES BUCKLAND

Photographer To Explain Color Work

A unique demonstration of color photography will be given camera fans by Les Buckland, managing editor of Canadian Photographer in the Christ Church Cathedral hall at 7.45 p.m. Monday.

During the lecture, color pictures are taken, processed on the spot, dried and screened in one evening—all without the aid of running water or dark room.

Mr. Buckland was a free-lance photographer in Europe for 28 years before he came to Canada three years ago.

Since becoming editor of Canadian Photographer, Canada's only national photographic magazine, he has travelled 20,000 miles across Canada giving color demonstrations.

The free lecture is sponsored by Victoria Photo Supply Ltd. and Canadian Photographer to stimulate interest in photography.

Metal Workers Ask Conciliation

Sheet Metal Workers International Association, Local 276, has asked for a provincial conciliation officer in its negotiations with Victoria and up-island sheet metal and roofing contractors.

The union is asking for its 125 members a 72-cents-an-hour wage boost to $3 an hour, five paid statutory holidays and a health an welfare plan.

Major Question for Canada, U.S.

Will the Seaway Pay for Itself?

By TOM GREEN
Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Canadian and United States governmental and St. Lawrence Seaway Authority officials are facing a major question which is causing considerable concern.

Can the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority be made "a self-liquidating project" over the planned 50-year period, or will it have to be stretched out to a 100-year basis?

General A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the international joint commission, believes that the 100-year period for amortization of the $300,000,000, Canadian cost of the seaway, may have to be followed. This is General McNaughton's opinion, having regard to the camparatively low level at which shippings tolls for the seaway will have to be set to stimulate—rather than limit—use of the seaway as a low-cost transportation route from the Atlantic seaboard to the heart of the North American continent at the head of the Great Lakes.

Acting President Charles Gavsie of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority believes that the planned 50-year period recognizes that the shipping tolls must be placed at an attractive level. He feels that a period of from three to five years after the seaway is completed in 1959 will be required before the problem of 50-year or 100-year amortization of the project needs to be finally determined. He says he is very optimistic of the shipping tonnage likely to develop for the seaway within the next few years.

It is known that the U.S. government and seaway authorities are already contemplating a formal request to Congress that the originally-planned 50-year amortizational period be extended to 100 years as to the $133,000,000 cost of the American seaway facilities.

OLD COMPANIONS

Egyptian monuments as early as 3,000 BC often included carvings of dogs, for which the Egyptians had great affection.

TO ALL LIFE INSURANCE POLICYHOLDERS:

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Retirement Savings Plans Eligible for INCOME TAX DEDUCTIONS

The Income Tax Act (Canada) was recently amended to permit individual taxpayers to deduct from their income, within certain limits, premiums paid for retirement savings plans in 1957 and later years.

The savings portion of either a new or an existing life insurance policy may be qualified as a retirement savings plan. Existing life insurance policies therefore need not be surrendered in order to take advantage of this tax relief.

The possible advantages of the deduction should in each case be considered in relation to the restrictions required by law to be included in a savings plan to make it eligible for the deduction, and in relation to the policyholder's own particular tax circumstances.

Policyholders interested in the new deduction should consult their life insurance underwriters or their companies.

B.C. Forest Drops Dollar On Report

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials moved strongly ahead on the stock market Monday but the gain was offset by weakesses among the western oils and base metals.

Financial institutions and motors led the industrials.

Union Gas was the feature of the section with a jump of 5½ points at 85. B.C. Forest Products lost 1¼ at 10½ following the company's annuoncement of reduced profits in the annual report.

A cut in the price of zinc was held responsible for losses sustained by some key mining issues.

Western oils were down in an almost solid line, losses ranging from ½ to ¾ points among higher-priced issues and from 10 to 20 cents among lower-priced oils. Canadian Husky and Calgary and Edmonton were the heaviest losers, each down ¾. Central Explorers gained 30 cents at $4.70 to lead the few stocks on the up side of the section.

Algoma Still Climbs

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed in an irregularly mixed tone with industrial movements ranging to more than a point.

Among the steels, Algoma moved up 1½ to 137½ while Steel of Canada dropped ¼ to 64¾ and Atlas lost ½ at 27½. In a lower base metal section, Hudson Bay and International Nickel each slipped ⅛ while Consolidated Smelters fell ⅝.

Papers were mixed with B.C. Forest at 10½ and Howard Smith at 43, each declining a point. International Paper was up well over a point at 43 and Consolidated Paper increased by ⅜ to 36. Inter-Provincial Pipe Lines held a ¾ loss at 56 and Trans-Mountain was still down 1½ at 127. In the refining oils, McColl added ¾ at 81 while Imperial at 55⅝ and Canadian Oil at 32½ were each ahead ½.

New York Wavers

NEW YORK (UP) — Stocks moved narrowly on reduced turnover.

Industrials encountered some turbulence as they moved around the 500-level in their average. Rails tried to take the lead but just couldn't seem to get the wheels rolling. A three-point drop in Peoples Gas brought utilities down after their average had touched a 26-year high.

The market's action was exactly in line with expectations of the experts who had predicted difficulty as the 500-level was approached. On two recent occasions—in January and November — the same thing happened with prices turning down when the average neared the stratosphere.

A handful of issues made good gains—2 points or more. A few others had wide losses. The main list held in a narrow range with changes irregular.

Steels balanced off small gains and losses. Motors held about steady. Oils were irregular. Du Pont rose more than a point in a mixed chemical section. International Nickel turned easy late in the day.

Coppers Do Better

VANCOUVER — Prices inclined lower with fewer exceptions, and volume of business was moderate. Coppers, led by Cowichan at 1.39, did a little better than the rest. Trojan and Bethlehem also made small gains, but Pacific Nickel was slightly off best at 1.12.

Oils were fairly well maintained with Vantor at 2.46, active through acquisition of the Vancouver Island Gas Co. Ltd.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Only export demand in coarse grains appeared in flax, where seaboard houses made early purchases. Trade reports indicated small sales of flax to the United Kingdom and the Continent.

Late hedges and other selling however, developed in flax and prices showed considerable hesitation.

Oats eased on liquidation. A factor behind the decline was the government announcement of a lower initial price for oats. Barley showed little feature, with trade mostly of a domestic nature.

Rye was irregular in thin trade.

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market turned lower after getting off to a firm start.

Wheat dipped almost a cent on some new and old crop contracts after starting fractionally higher. Corn lost more than a cent at times on the December and March contracts.

Selling in wheat was influenced by clearing weather in the rain-soaked southwest and the shipment of 53 cars of red winter wheat out of Chicago during the weekend.

Prison Pregnancy

Love Laughs At Locksmiths

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — It takes ingenuity to become pregnant behind prison walls, but a couple who escaped together from Kansas state prison explained to astonished police yesterday how love found a way.

The two, Hernando Cotton, 49, an Oklahoma transient, and pretty Mrs. Martha Stachura, 27, of Wichita, Kan., unravelled a fantastic tale of secret codes, hidden messages and love in a darkened steam tunnel.

The couple said they broke out of prison last December so she could have her child "outside the wall."

"It's our sin," Mrs. Stachura said tearfully, "don't blame our child."

They were picked up by police here for the kidnap-robbery of Anthony Travellick, 23, which they said was their "last crime fling," and only undertaken to get money "to live on."

Mrs. Stachura said she met Cotton, a trusty from the men's prison, while he worked as a plumber in the women's institution.

At first it was just friendship and an occasional cheery greeting, she said, but the acquaintance quickly blossomed into love.

The couple arranged for a secret rendezvous in the steam tunnel with messages passed through a thin gas pipe which ran behind Mrs. Stachura's cell.

The two decided to escape after this meeting, she said, when she realized she was pregnant.

One night they met again in the tunnel, then hid behind a cluster of welding bottles in the maintenance building for two days. When the coast was clear, they simply walked out.

Cotton was imprisoned on a first-degree murder conviction in 1949. Mrs. Strachura was given a one-to-five-year sentence last year for concealing mortgaged property. Her husband is still behind bars on the same charge.

Powerline Wrecked Sunday

Doukhobor Front Quiet

NELSON, B.C. (BUP) — An air of restless quiet pervaded British Columbia's Kootenay district last night as work crews repaired a power-line wrecked in a weekend explosion believed touched off by Sons of Freedom Doukhobors.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported no new incidents since the blast rocked the Nelson area Sunday. But constables were keeping a close eye on the restive Freedomites, who dropped a differdent kind of a bomb two days ago with the disclosure that they want to return to their native Russia.

The [illegible] in the Soviet Union and imperialistic [illegible] occurred at Glade, 15 miles from Nelson, less than 24 hours after the Doukhobors announced through a spokesman that they were formulating plans to return to their homeland.

The projected exodus was announced by Nick Kanigan, one of five delegates chosen by British Columbia's troublous 2,500 Sons of Freedom to travel [illegible] gate possible new living conditions for the fanatical religious sect.

'If They Want to Go We Will Help Them'

If Sons of Freedom Doukhobors want to return to Russia B.C. will help them, Premier Bennett said yesterday.

"We won't ask them to go, but if they really want to we will give them assistance," he said.

About 2,500 Sons of Freedom in the East Kootenays have asked permission from Russia to return to their former homeland because they can not get religious freedom in Canada.

Trainer Blames Confusion — On Improper Pole Markings

Derby Boner Costs 'Shoe' 15 Days

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker Monday drew a 15-day suspension from stewards at Churchill Downs for his error in misjudging the finish line aboard Gallant Man in the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

The stewards issued a terse [illegible] was suspended for 15 days, "for gross carelessness in misjudging the point of finish in the seventh race (the derby) May 4."

The suspension bars Shoemaker, one of the nation's top riders, from riding at any major track from May 8 through May 22.

Gallant Man, owned by Ralph Lowe, was battling head and head with Iron Liege in the derby stretch run and appeared to be pulling ahead of the Calumet horse when, near the sixteenth pole, Shoemaker suddenly stood up in the saddle as though to rein in the horse. Shoemaker immediately realized his error, but the misjudgment threw Gallant Man off stride momentarily — perhaps just enough to result in his losing to Iron Liege by a nose.

BECAME CONFUSED

Summoned by the stewards, Shoemaker first said his action was due to a "wavy" section in the track, but later admitted he simply became confused and mistook the sixteenth pole for the finish line.

John Nerud, trainer of Gallant Man, later sought to relieve Shoemaker of some of the blame for the "$100,000 boner," by saying that improper pole markings and the long home stretch at Churchill Downs caused Shoemaker's confusion.

The poles at the Downs are all the same color, but the finish pole is much larger, has the word "finish" painted on it and also bears a huge mirror for the photo-finish camera.

SECOND ERROR

Shoemaker figured in a somewhat similiar incident last summer at Hollywood Park when he apparently thought he had a race won on Swaps and eased up, allowing Porterhouse to sneak through on the inside and beat him.

It is assumed the suspension will bar Shoemaker from riding in the Preakness—second jewel in racing's triple crown—at Pimlico May 18.

Gallant Man still isn't a definite starter for the Preakness, but Nerud said if the colt does run in the Maryland classic he would like Shoemaker to ride him.

Iron Liege and his stablemate, Gen. Duke, who was scratched from the derby because of an ailing foot, will leave today for Pimlico and the Preakness.

Among the other derby starters, Round Table (third) and Federal Hill (fifth) are also considered probable entries in the Preakness, along with such non-derby starters as Inswept, High Sparkle, Gannet, Big Paddy, Cohoes and Nah Miss.

Defeats Colwood Pro — In Island Open Final

Steady Joe Briggs Wins First Big Golf Title

Quiet Joe Briggs, who started the Vancouver Island open match play golf tournament as a rank outsider with an eight handicap, wound it up on Sunday as a champion with his handicap certain to be at least cut in two.

Never before the winner of a major tournament, the 46-year-old swinger from the Gorge Vale Golf Club, climaxed his solidly steady play this spring by defeating Colwood pro Bill Court, 3 and 2, in the 36-hole final at the Uplands Golf Club.

Victory gave Briggs the distinction of being the first golfer to win the main and "B," or handicap, championships. He was the winner of the handicap title in the tournament's first year, runner-up in the second year.

This year, "B" honors were won Sunday by Jack Galbraith of the Victoria Golf Club, who took a keenly-fought, 2 and 1 decision from Dr. Roger Ross of Gorge Vale.

Briggs didn't score as well as he had been doing in previous rounds but he settled down on the lead. His par golf over the last seven holes was too much for Court, who drew even on the 23rd hole and was still even as the pair turned for home on the second round.

Two 39s gave the new champion a 78 for the morning round, good enough for a two-up lead. Briggs' score included a double-bogey six on the second hole and a three-over-par seven on the third. He settled down there and "played pretty good" the rest of the way, except for a four-hole stretch at the start of he second 18 holes.

A par on 19 gave Briggs a three-up lead and he managed a half with a double-bogey six on 20. Three holes later, Court was in a tie.

Trying to play out of a trap with a wood, Briggs lost the 21st hole even though Court could do no better than a six. The scrappy Colwood pro then took quick advantage of Briggs' chagrin and his two pars pulled him even.

Briggs settled down, got halves on the next four holes and regained the lead on the 28th, where Court had a tough shot from a trap. Briggs went two up on the 29th hole when a good chip left him a short putt for his par three.

Briggs left Court dormie three by getting his second birdie of the day on the 15th hole, running down a seven-foot putt. A great chip shot on the next hole left him with a four-inch putt for his par and victory.

It was a disappointing day for Court, who had announced before the final that this was his last

Dodgers Nip Braves in 14th As Cimoli, Furillo Lead Way

Gino Cimoli, who has been trying to crack the Brooklyn outfield for several seasons, and Carl Furillo, a 35-year-old veteran who has been a regular for 12 seasons, last night combined to keep the Dodgers hot on the heels of the Milwaukee Braves in the National League pennant race.

The pair did all the damage as the Dodgers struggled to a 5-4 decision over the Braves in 14 innings of tense battling. The Braves had come from behind to win, 10-7, on Sunday and were bidding to lengthen their lead over the Brooks to three games.

Cimoli accomplished more last night than he had all last season, when he got but four singles in 36 trips to the plate, mostly as a pinch-hitter.

He got five hits last night, the last of them a home run which broke things up in the 14th. His fourth hit was a 12th-inning double which enabled him to score on Furillo's single to tie the score at 4-4 after the Braves had gone ahead.

FURILLO HOMERS

Dodgers grabbed a 3-1 lead in the first inning when Furillo homered after Cimoli and Sandy Amoros had singled.

The Braves pulled even in the eighth on Joe Adcock's home run. Their first two runs, in the first and sixth innings, were home runs by Eddie Mathews.

On Sunday, the Brooks had a 7-2 lead in the first three innings, then were stopped cold by relief-pitcher Ernie Johnson, who held them to a scratch single in the last six innings. The Braves, led by Hank Aaron, who drove in three runs and scored four with a home run, double and two singles, knocked Sal Maglie out in the fourth with three runs and sent Don Bessent to the showers in the fifth with three more.

Idle yesterday in a skimpy major league schedule, Cincinnati Redlegs remained within striking distance Sunday by two-timing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2 and 7-3.

Brooks Lawrence, who committed three errors, and Don Gross gave the Reds unusually steady pitching in extending the season's longest win streak to seven games.

Stopped last week by the Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals moved back into the first division by dumping the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-4 and 2-0, with Del Ennis turning on his old teammates. The veteran outfielder, traded away during the off-season, batted in three runs in the first game and two in the second.

Yesterday's American League action was limited to two games featuring four clubs well out of the running at the moment.

A'S SURPRISE

Kansas City Athletes, surprising everyone, moved into fourth place and, perhaps, cost Washington manager Chuck Dressen his job with a 7-2 win over the Senators. Jim Pisoni's grand-slam home run in the first inning was the killing blow.

Senators have won only four of 20 games and club president Calvin Griffith is reportedly set to oust Dressen after he joins the club today.

In yesterday's other game, ex-Tiger Jim Bideweser picked the right time for his first hit of the season. It was a 14th-inning double which drove in two runs to give Baltimore Orioles an 8-6 win over Detroit Tigers.

Meanwhile, Cleveland Indians were planning on trying to stop the onrushing New York Yankees today by nominating ace southpaw Herb Score to pitch against Tom Sturdivant in the series opener.

YANKS ON TOP

The Yankees took over the American League lead Sunday by completing a sweep of the three-game series against Chicago White Sox with 4-2 and 3-0 victories. The champs have now won six in a row.

Bobby Shantz, who may turn out to be the "find" of the season, won the first game with a well-pitched seven-hitter. Johnny Kucks was even better in the second game, giving up but three hits.

Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman, the Sox' southpaw stars, couldn't hold the Yanks. A run-scoring triple by Gil McDougald was followed by Mickey Mantle's third home run in the fourth inning of the first game and Shantz had all the runs he needed. In the afterpiece, two walks, a single by Yogi Berra and a triple by Elston Howard in the fourth inning beat Harshman.

Boston Red Sox snapped a four-game losing streak by knocking off Cleveland Indians, 5-1 and 4-3, and moved back into third place.

Righthanded or lefthanded, it's all the same to Mickey Mantle, the switch-hitting centrefielder of the New York Yankees. Camera shows his terrific power perfectly as he leaned into a pitch thrown by Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox' star southpaw, during Sunday's doubleheader. The ball soared over left-field wall for two-run homer which was difference in 4-2 win. Mantle, prone to injury, had to leave second game because of a pulled groin muscle. He is expected back within a day or two.—(AP Photofax.)

Vancouver Sunday Baseball May Bring Action by B.C.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner has a new problem—the Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Despite the fact that a Sunday sports by-law passed by Vancouver in a referendum was rejected by the B.C. government last spring, the Mounties played a doubleheader on Sunday, admitting fans who had purchased tickets during the week. No tickets were sold Sunday.

Among the crowd of 5,600 at Capilano Stadium were city detectives, who questioned general manager Cedric Tallis and several fans. Evidence gathered by the detectives was turned over to Vancouver City prosecutor Stewart McMorran and it was reported that it will be forwarded to the attorney-general.

An official of the Lord's Day Alliance said his organization has made no complaint about the Sunday baseball.

The secretary, Rev. H. T. Allen, added: "This is an open challenge. I don't see how police can ignore it. It is up to the police, not us. We are not the law."

Another report said that the alliance had asked Vancouver Mayor Fred Hume to warn "the proper authorities to take proper action to deal with an interference of the law."

Tallis announced that "whatever happens we're going to play next Sunday anyway."

Results of the first Sunday professional baseball weren't too good for Mountie fans, the Vancouver club lost the first game of the scheduled doubleheader to San Diego Padres, 7-6. Mounties were ahead, 1-0, in the second game when action was stopped after six innings by a 6 o'clock curfew.

The game was completed last night. George Bamberger setting down three Padres in a row to complete the game and preserve his two-hit win.

In the scheduled game, only one on the PCL schedule last night, the Padres won the series, 4-1, Bud Daley held the Mounties to four hits to score a 4-0 win.

Results left the Mounties in third place, a game and a half behind the Los Angeles Angels.

SWEDISH XI LOSES

VIENNA (Reuters) — Austria beat Sweden 1-0 Sunday in an international football match here.

Ottawa Squares Series On Third-Period Spree

REGINA (CP) — Ottawa Canadiens scored three times in the third period Monday night to defeat Flin Flon Bombers 4-2 and force a seventh and deciding game in the Memorial Cup final.

The win by the eastern champions tied the Canadian junior hockey championship final three games apiece. The seventh game will be played here Wednesday.

CAPACITY CROWD

A capacity crowd of nearly 5,000 fans saw captain Ralph Backstrom of Canadiens tally twice in the final period after Ottawa trailed 2-1 at the end of the second. Ottawa scored the only goal of the first stanza.

Other Ottawa marksmen were defenceman Jean Picard and forward Dick Dumouchel, who scored into an open net.

Patty Ginnell and George Konik scored for Flin Flon. Both goals resulted from beautiful setups by centre Orland Kurtenbach, a Prince Albert Minto recruit and one of three replacements picked up by the western champions.

It could have gone either way but the turning point appeared to be Ottawa's tying goal early in third. They took over and commanded play after that and Flin Flon appeared badly disorganized.

Ottawa—Goal: Dufour; defence: Ruel, Picard, Longarini, Tardif; forwards: Backstrom, Dumouchel, Balfour, Rousseau, Carter, Annable, Wilson, Tremblay, Richard, Johns.

Flin Flon—Goal: Wood; defence: Gaultier, Konik, Kardash, Willes; forwards: Hampson, Pearson, Ginnell, Kurtenbach, Fleming, Lennartz, Hutchinson, Lee, Beatty.

Tugmen Meet Jokers

City Boxla Loop Opening Tonight

Victoria's three-team senior "B" lacrosse league gets under way tonight when Island Tug & Barge, last season's champion Foul Bay crew, meets Jokers in the opening game at Stevenson Park at 6.30 p.m.

The Tugmen will open the season with the veteran Jack Reid replacing Alex McDonald at the helm. McDonald has applied for his referee's papers in the Inter-City Lacrosse League and is expected to be one of the game officials tonight.

Thursday night, the Junior Shamrocks, who will again be playing in the league for competition, meet the Jokers at 6.30.

Meanwhile, Doug Fletcher, president of the Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association, has appealed to city youngsters to turn out to the coaching clinics conducted by Jack Bionda.

Fletcher reports that there has been a heavy turnout in the diaper division but the three other divisions — bantams, pee wees and juvenile "B" — all need more players.

Teams in all divisions will be selected this week.

Practice schedule:

Tuesday, 3.15 p.m.—Peewee boys; 6.30 p.m. Foul Bay vs. Jokers.
Wednesday, 3.15 p.m.—Bantams; 6.00 p.m. Juvenile "A"; 7.00 p.m. Shamrocks.
Thursday, 3.15 p.m. Bantams; 6.30 p.m. Jr. Rocks vs. Jokers.
Friday, 6.00 p.m.—Juveniles.
Saturday, 9.00 a.m.—Peewees; 10.45 a.m. Bantams.

Fine Bowling Features Meet As Island Champions Named

A team score which could be a new provincial record, a new Island record in the doubles and a near-perfect game featured the annual Vancouver Island fivepin championships, which ended early Monday morning at the Esquimalt Bowladrome.

With entries discouraged by two tremendous totals Saturday, only 13 teams bowled for the team championship. Not one, of course, was able to come close to matching the total of 3,954 turned in Saturday afternoon by Reg Waggoner, Keith Todd, Frank Morgan, Stan Bell and Ken Smith.

Bowling as the Esqui-Mos, the quintet came on after a Duncan entry—the Red Wings—had turned in a gross total of 3-917, of which 588 was handicap. The Esqui-Mos rolled their total from scratch.

A Nanaimo combination of Mrs. Dolly Gregory and Audy Baldwin won the doubles with a gross total of 1,809, reported to be a new Island record.

Mrs. Gregory turned in games of 238,230 and 199 for a 667 total while Baldwin scored 866 on games of 320,301 and 245 for a new total of 1,533. The pair had a 276 handicap for the three games.

Second prize in the doubles when to the Duncan combination of Gordie Whan and S. Bonsall. Whan rolled 777 and Bonsall 594 for 1,371 net, which was swelled to 1,698 with a 327 handicap.

Bob McLeod and Tony Bishop of Victoria were a close third with 1,677. McLeod had a three-game total of 797 and Bishop rolled 790. They had a handicap of 90 for three games.

Included in McLeod's total was a 418 last game which had watchers and bowlers in a mild frenzy as the young trundler came close to winning the new car offered by the alley management for a perfect game.

McLeod had nine straight strikes and his first ball in the 10th frame looked good for a 10th strike. But a corner pin refused to go down and McLeod, who boasts a 230 average and holds the alley record of 990 for three games, had to settle for 418.

He was awarded a cash prize and his, of course, was the high single game score of the tournament.

Neil Craig of Victoria, starting with a handicap of 72 a game, rolled games of 288, 188 and 230 to win the singles event with a gross total of 922.

Dave Whitworth was second with a net of 734 and a gross of 890 and Whan, with a net of 696 and a gross of 876, won third prize.

Mrs. Lawson Medalist At Uplands

Match play in the annual women's championship at the Uplands Golf Club starts today with medalist Mrs. K. S. Lawson drawn against Mrs. G. C. Chisholm and defending champion Mrs. W. S. Smith playing Mrs. C. S. Humber.

11.45—Mrs. D. Fletcher vs. Mrs. P. J. Ferguson.
Byrs—Miss M. Milburn, Mrs. G. Lovith.

Island Champs

Optimists won the Vancouver Island division II soccer championship Sunday by trimming Nanaimo, 4-1, at the up-Island centre.

John Youson scored twice for the winners with Bob Taylor and Larry Brown each scoring once.

West Indies Checked By Stand of 138 Runs

LONDON (AP) — The West Indies were checked on the brink of overwhelming victory Monday by a resolute unbroken stand of 138 by Northamptonshire batsmen G. E. Tribe and D. Barrick.

Shot out in two and one-quarter hours for 91 by "spin twins" Sonny Ramadhin and Alf Valentine, Northamptonshire followed on 237 behind. They lost three wickets for 53 before the first resistance game. At the close, they needed 46 to save an innings defeat with seven wickets in hand.

The "twins," playing together for the first time in this tour, gave England an indication of what they can expect in the coming test series.

Ramadhin particularly, looked as menacing as he did seven years ago. During the day he conceded only 60 runs in 52 overs and took six wickets. His command of length and flight and his ability to disguise the spin were too much for the batsmen who found it as difficult as ever to destroy his accuracy.

In the second innings, Northamptonshire batsmen Barrick and Tribe played back and watched the ball closely.

Valentine, who took the same number of wickets as Ramadhin, fell prey to hard-hitting J. P. Fellows-Smith who scored three sixes and a four in the first innings before falling to the first ball he received from Ramadhin.

Close-of-play country cricket scores:

Derbyshire 149 and 138; Yorkshire 265 and 23 for 1 wicket. Yorkshire won by nine wickets.

Cambridge University 276 for 8 declared and 23 for 2; Essex 238 for 9 declared.

Middlesex 168 and 270 for 9; Nottinghamshire 145.

Surrey 334 and 144 for 1; Combined Services 222.

Gloucestershire 380 for 8 declared and 30 for no wicket; Oxford University 208.

West Indies 328 for 3 declared. Northamptonshire 91 and 191 for three.

Lancashire 328; Somerset 153 and 124 for four.

Warwickshire 329 for 7 declared and 43 for no wicket; Worcestershire 227.

Brodies, Smokies Win 'B' League Decisions

Brodies Bakery and Firefighters, both receiving fine pitching performances, chalked up victories last night in senior "B" men's softball league action.

The Bakers, who beat Mary's Coffee Bar in their opener Sunday, beat Re-Refined Oil, 10-4, behind the five-hit pitching of ace Jack Girard.

Firefighters scored twice in each of the seventh and eighth innings to gain a 4-1 victory over Fletchers. The Smokies got a three-hit performance from fastballing Barry Jackson, who gave up the only run in the bottom of the ninth frame.

Gerry Stilson was in complete control for the losers until the late stages and yielded only five hits.

In Sunday's other game, Tudor House defeated Navy, 9-4, with George Kaye going the distance for the winners.

Linescores:

Half Way, Hotelmen Win As Softball League Opens

Close games marked by plenty of action featured the opening of the four-team senior "A" men's softball league Sunday afternoon with a good crowd watching Half Way House and defending champion Gorge Hotel post opening-game victories at Central Park.

Half Way House, last season's Chinese Students club, downed Arrow Furniture, 3-1, in the first game while Chick Newman led the Hotelmen to a 7-5, 12-inning victory over Duncan Mayo Lumber, returning to the league after a two-year absence.

In the opening game, Don Ward walked the first three men he faced and veteran Jimmie John cracked a bases-loaded single to put Half Way House into a two-run lead in the first inning.

That proved all the runs Dennis Beaulac needed as he set Arrows down with four hits and gave up the only run in the third frame.

Newman, a first baseman shifted to the hot corner, came up with 13 assists in a fine defensive performance and also shared hitting honors with Stan Stewart.

Newman smashed a home run to centre field in the seventh inning to tie the score at 5-5, singled in the top of the 12th and scored what proved to be the winning run as Stewart clouted a 12th-inning homer.

Dave Price relieved starter Ab Wiebe in the sixth inning and didn't allow a run.

Taking part in pre-game ceremonies were Aldermen Elmer McEwann, B.C. Softball Association president Bill Hallinan of Vancouver, Cec Wright of Vancouver and league commissioner Jim Lackie.

Contract Not Valid . . . . . . for Defence in June

Moore Wants $100,000 for Title Bout

Archie Moore demanded $100,000 Monday to defend his light heavyweight boxing world title against Tony Anthony.

The 40-year-old champion told a press conference in Frankfurt, Germany: "I've lost at least $100,000 in the almost five years I was kept waiting for a shot at the light heavyweight title and I believe it's only reasonable that I get the same amount for the title defence."

Speaking to American and German reporters, Archie said:

"I'm willing to defend my title against Tony Anthony if my monetary demands are met and if I'm in fighting shape again. For the time being I'm in the process of taking off 28 pounds."

He insisted that he never signed "a valid contract with the International Boxing Club to fight Anthony on June 7."

Archie said all he did in March in Detroit was "sign a document that I would fight the winner of the Chuck Spieser-Tony Anthony fight." Anthony knocked out Spieser in the third round at Detroit April 5.

He said the financial side was not covered in the contract "and moreover I was the only one to sign it—neither Spieser's nor Anthony's managers were present at the signing."

All he did, Moore said, was "go through the motions of an official signing for the benefit of the reporters and newsreel men."

Moore said he received a telegram from Floyd Stevens, president of the U.S. NBA informing him that if he did not fight Anthony on June 7 he would be suspened and the title declared vacant one month later."

The champion complained about his manager, Charlie Johnston in New York. "Johnston is paid by me but he hasn't done anything to clear up this confusing situation" Moore said. "If anyone should be suspended it should be Johnston."

In New York, Johnston declined to comment on Moore's remarks.

"As far as the title fight goes, Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) is due in tomorrow and I expect to sit down with him to discuss terms," said Johnston.

Meanwhile, in Detroit, Bill Matney, assistant to Stevens, said Moore's $100,000 demand was "more than he was dickering for here."

Matney said Stevens had received a telegram from Moore in which the champion indicated he would sign for the Anthony battle in Detroit.

HOT AT LOW SPEED

City driving at traffic-jam pace demands a spark plug hot enough to prevent fouling. The new Auto-Lite Resistor Spark Plug with Power Tip is the answer because the protruding Power Tip is hot under city driving to burn away fouling deposits which cause ordinary spark plugs in city driving.

COLD AT HIGH SPEED

On the open road, higher speeds call for a plug cool enough to prevent preignition. New Auto-Lite Resistor Spark Plug with Power Tip is the answer because the protruding Power Tip is quickly cooled by the richer air-fuel mixture to check dangerous high-speed preignition caused by overheated spark plugs.

* Power Tip is ignition-engineered to overhead valve Ford engines and to overhead valve Chrysler engines with Thermostatic Bonus Cooling Chrysler, Dodge, Dodge Fargo, Plymouth, Imperial, Desoto, Mercury, Meteor, Monarch, Lincoln, Oldsmobile, Packard, Plymouth, Pontiac, Rambler, Studebaker

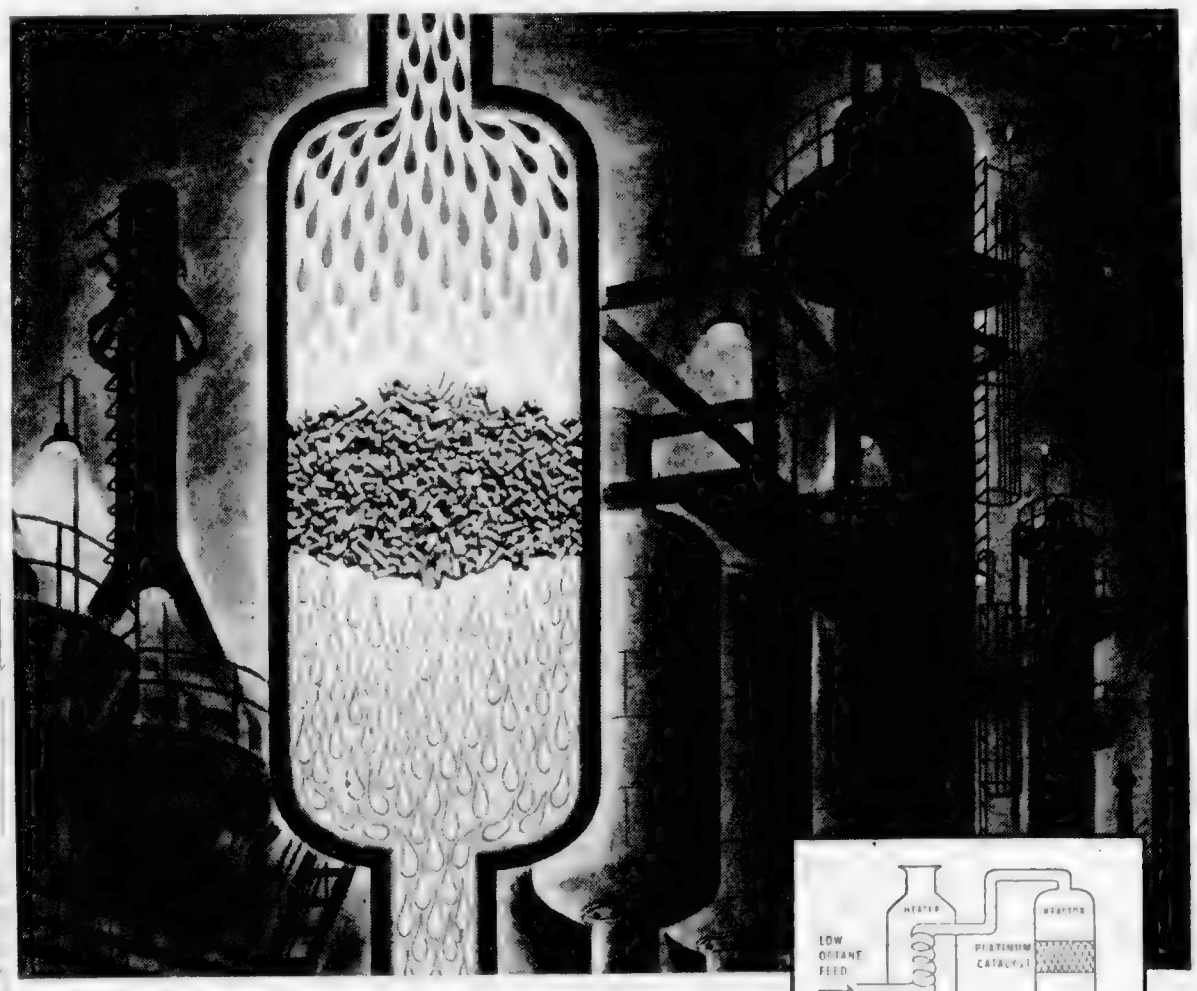
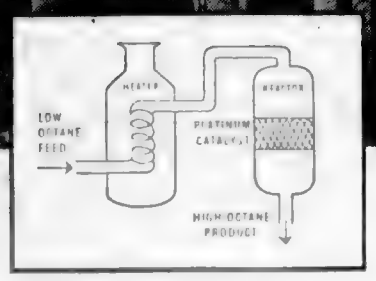
Inco Metals at work in Canada





In the platinum refining process, low octane naphtha flows through a bed of platinum pellets, covering approximately [illegible] platinum. Contact with the platinum speeds the chemical reaction that changes the low octane naphtha to high octane components — the basis of most modern anti-knock gasolines.

INCO PLATINUM helps produce high octane gasoline in Canada

Using one of the world's most precious metals — platinum — many of Canada's oil companies are producing high octane anti-knock gasoline more economically than ever before! That is because the platinum causes a catalytic reaction that changes low octane naphthas into high octane fuel and does this with maximum yield of marketable products.

A substantial proportion of the platinum used in Canada's oil refineries is Inco Platinum, mined by Inco workmen right here in Canada.

Platinum is one of the seven precious metals present in the Sudbury ores in recoverable quantities.

In oil refineries and other important Canadian companies manufacturing chemical, electrical, dental and medical products, and jewelry, Inco Platinum helps provide jobs for Canadians and better products for you.

This is another way that Inco helps stimulate the growth and development of Canada's economy.

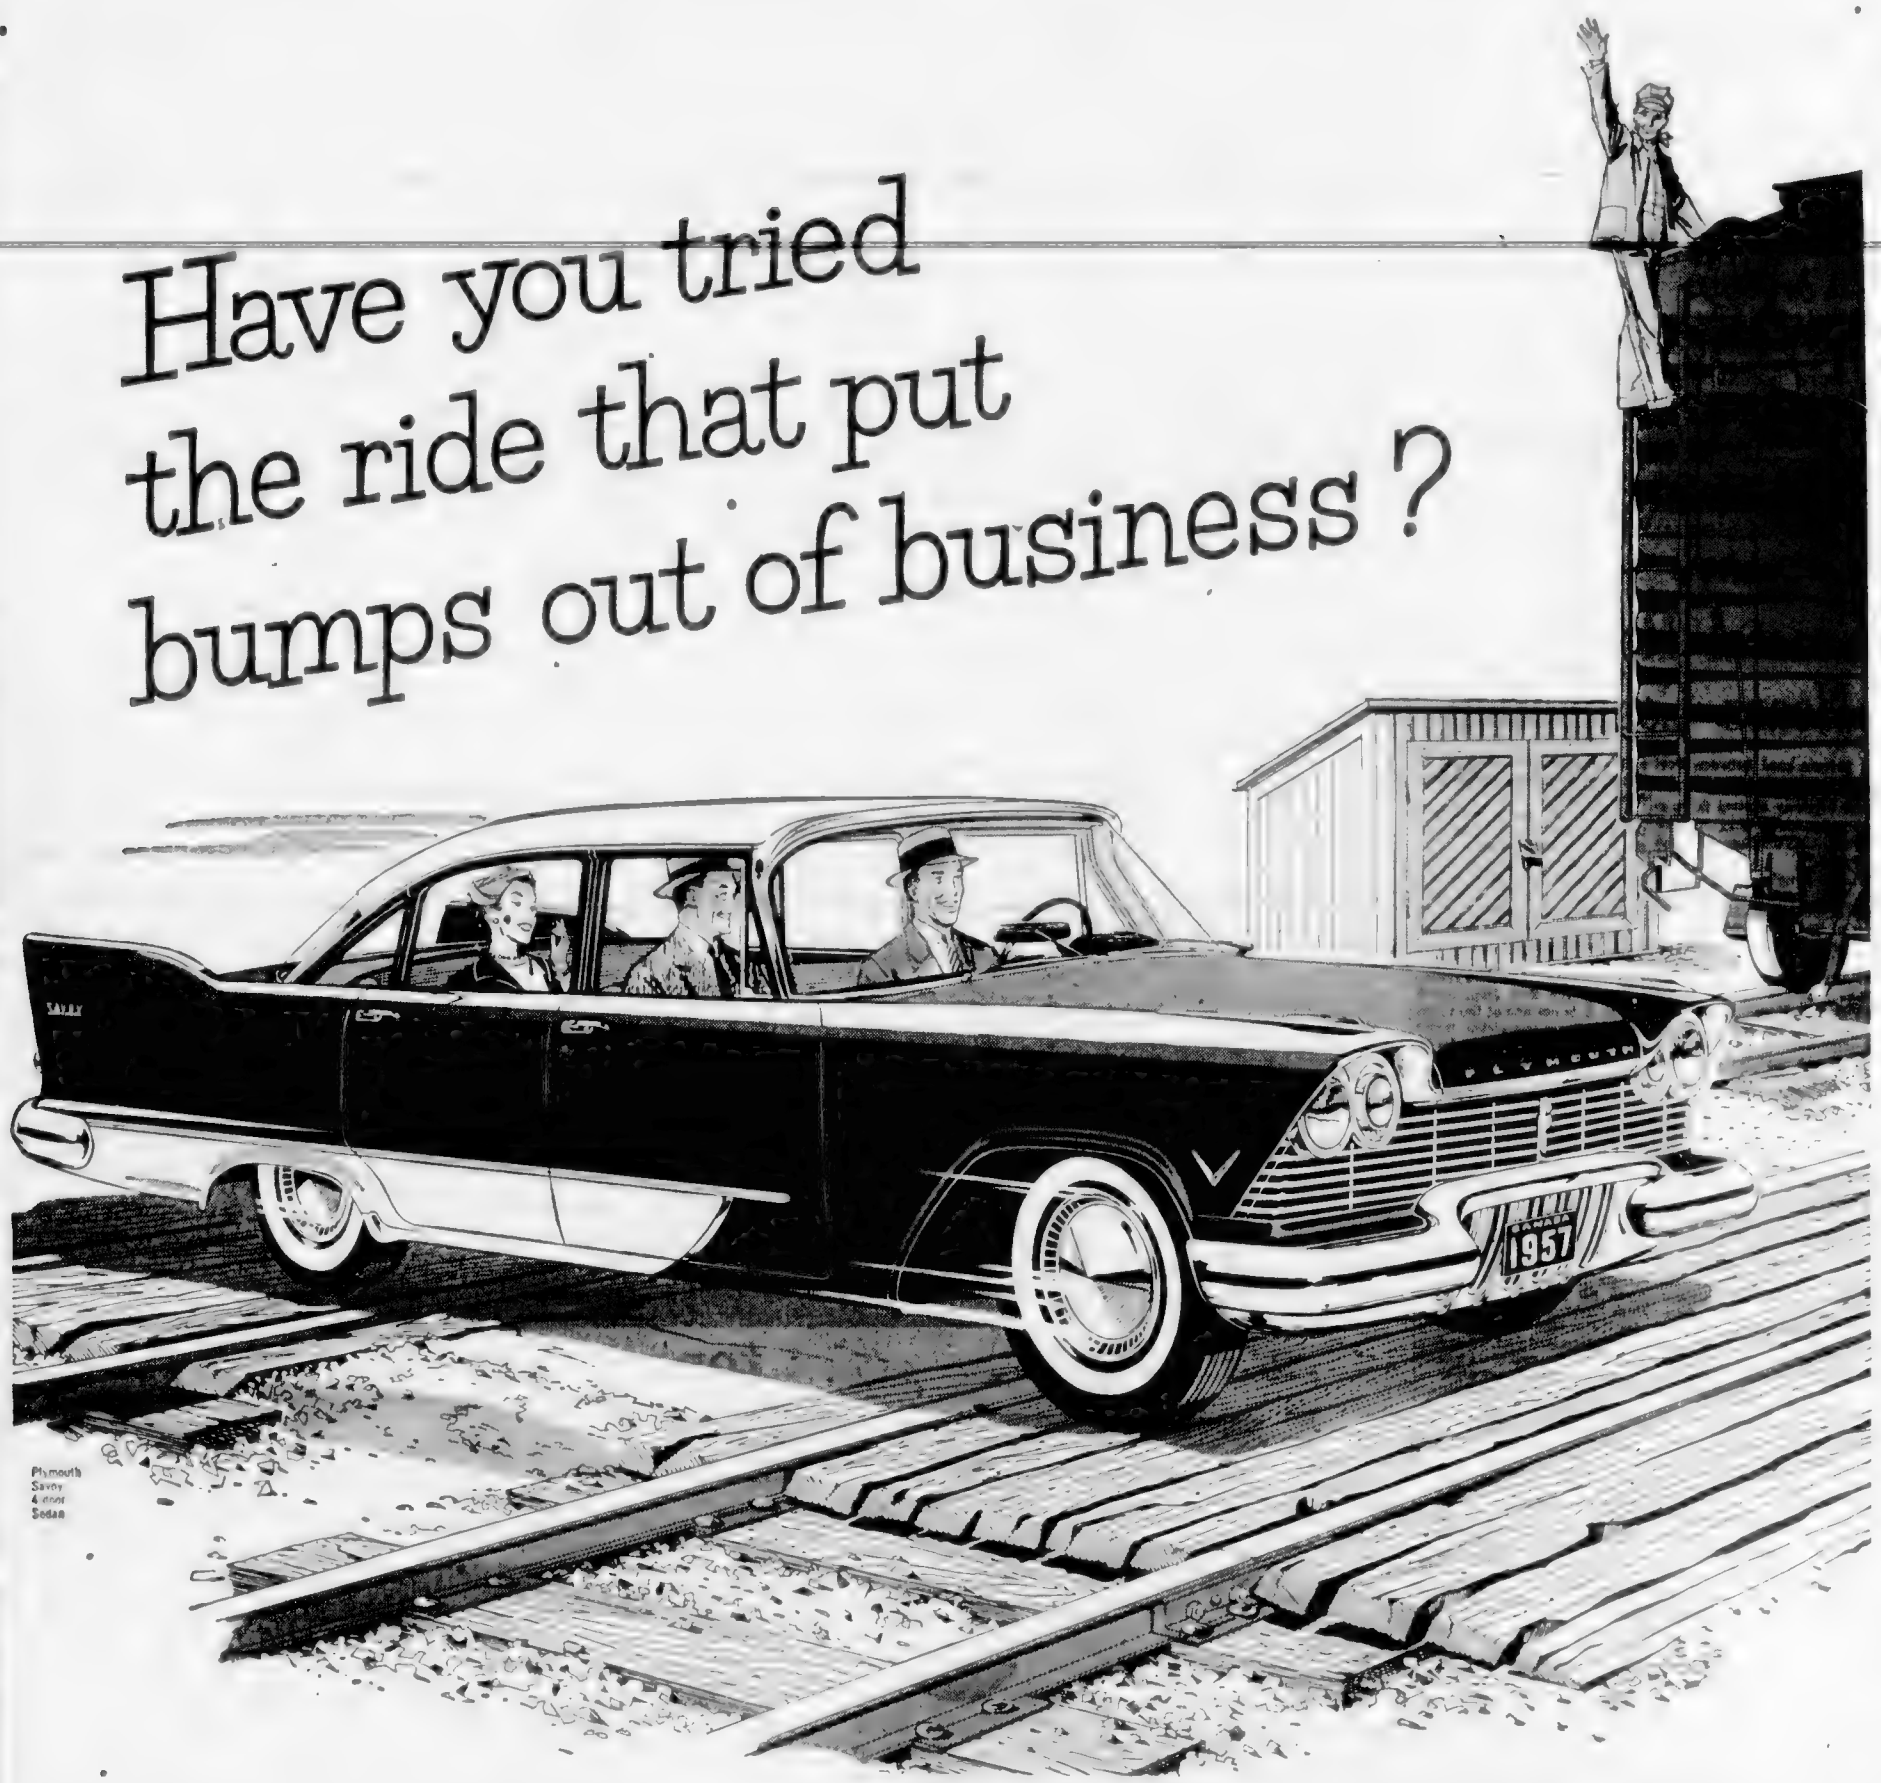
Have you tried the ride that put bumps out of business?



Plymouth
Savoy
4-door
Sedan

Even if you can only spare a few minutes out of a busy day, by all means take a demonstration ride in a new Plymouth with Torsion-Aire suspension

It's downright wonderful . . . what a difference it makes when you get out of the ordinary and into a new Thrill-Power Plymouth with Torsion-Aire suspension.

Just take a beautiful Plymouth a few miles down one of those old bumpety-bump side roads and you'll see what we mean. It is an entirely new ride experience, because of Plymouth's remarkable Torsion-Aire suspension. It's like coasting along on a thick, velvety carpet. Because Torsion-Aire eliminates the jolts, jars and jounces you feel in other cars.

And your turning and braking feel entirely different, too. For Plymouth's Torsion-Aire suspension keeps it from "heeling over" when you round a corner . . . and keeps the nose of the car from "diving" when you stop. It's the most astonishingly level ride you've ever had.

We'll save the mechanical details about Torsion-Aire until you come in. But one thing we might mention is that this suspension system is a totally new idea in which old-fashioned coil springs are replaced by advance-design torsion bars. They cushion and stabilize your ride. Give it a new sports-car feel.

But why not get the rest of the story while you're flashing along in the lowest, sleekest Plymouth ever built? You'll love its big Thrill-Power "303" V-8 . . . its new Torque-Flite automatic drive . . . its roominess and luxury—every inch of it.

Just dial for a demonstration in a new Thrill-Power Plymouth!

How about tomorrow? Phone us, and we'll bring a fresh, frisky new Plymouth to your door. Try its new V-8 or 6 Thrill-Power GO . . . Push-button Torque-Flite automatic drive . . . Total-Contact brakes . . . and all the other new Chrysler-engineered advances everyone's so excited about!

Coastal Road Link Nears Completion

A private road between Port Renfrew and the Vancouver Island highway system is nearing completion, B.C. Forest Products Ltd. officials discussed yesterday.

When completed the road will join the company's base camp at Port Renfrew, on west coast of Vancouver Island, with its Bear Creek camp at the end of the public road extending west from Shawnigan Lake.

The road is certainly not open at this time," a company official declared.

A temporary bridge has been built at one spot on the road and some trucks are using it but they are having a hard time over the rest.

"As far as we're concerned the road is still under construction," the official stated.

Good progress, meanwhile, is being made on a public road between Jordan River and Port Renfrew. An extension of the West Coast road, it is expected to be completed by the end of August.

The BCFP road follows roughly along the San Juan River Valley. It is not one of the roads that must be completed under terms of the company's forest management licence.

Israel Parades Armed Might

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—Israel yesterday showed off a mighty military machine including a fleet of French jets three times larger than previously had been acknowledged, to celebrate Independence Day and to serve notice that it intends to remain free.

Much of the military equipment that took part in a military parade and fly-past in Tel Aviv was French made. Some of it was captured Russian equipment from the successful Sinai Desert campaign against Egypt last fall.

The big surprise was the air force. Israel has acknowledged receipt of only 12 Mystère jet fighters from France. But 36 of them flew over the Israeli skies and swooped near the official dais on which sat Premier David Ben-Gurion in the new swing-shed.

In addition another 36 British Meteor jets flew past. These Israel was known to have. Unlike the Mystère jets, the Meteors are no match for the Soviet-built MiGs which Egypt possesses.

On the ground troops, artillery and tanks clanked past. Observers noted that 80 per cent of the ground equipment was French-made, a further indication of the close alliance between Israel and France which has swung Israel to a military organization based on the French defence system.

The parade was intended only to show a cross section of the country's armed might.

Captured Russian-made tanks highlighted the parade. The Soviet equipment included T-34 tanks, BRDM armoured cars, Molotova troop carriers and 76- and 122-mm cannon. Czech anti-tank guns and cannon also were seen. All were part of the Soviet arms deal with Egypt.

Argyle Resignation Demanded

Street-Sweeper Battle Breaks Out Once More

Esquimalt's Reeve Vetoes Resolutions

Esquimalt council's "battle of the street-sweeper" exploded again last night when the resignation of Coun. George Argyle as chairman of the public works committee was demanded by Coun. J. E. Carey.

In the evening wrangle Reeve A. C. Whyte ruled out of order several motions by councillors including the resignation proposal.

Coun. Argyle sat through the debate without saying a word in his defence for which the Municipal Act is remarkably silent.

CAREY OBJECTS

Coun. Carey objected to the fact that the company's public works department of a paper dealing mainly in rental from a former Liberal Coun. Argyle was director for Esquimalt Service Ltd.

The municipality's solicitors stated that there was nothing illegal under the control of the machine as the Municipal Act allowed a municipality to do business with a firm of which a councillor is a director or shareholder.

However the councillor in question cannot vote on such matters.

Reeve Whyte in refusing to accept Coun. Carey's resignation motion said he was perfectly aware that Coun. Argyle was a director of Esquimalt Service Ltd. when he appointed him chairman of public works.

"I believe Coun. Argyle to be an honorable man," he continued.

"We know in our own minds," said Coun. James Fossett, "the legality of this. I'm not in guess work again. I have taken these minutes, regardless of the act."

"I don't see anything wrong with it," said the reeve.

Councillor Walter Hayter unsuccessfully with a motion that the municipality "refrain from employing from Esquimalt Service Ltd."

"I will not entertain any such motion as that," the reeve stated.

The reeve called for a motion to receive and file the solicitor's report.

"I think the matter should be brought before the deputy minister of municipal affairs," said Coun. Carey.

Councillor Carey continued to argue after Coun. W. J. A. Barclay submitted a motion to receive and file.

Councillor Carey voted against the motion and Coun. Argyle abstained.

Councillor Bryant continued the debate by moving that no street cleaning machine be hired with council's approval.

Reeve Whyte refused to accept the motion saying that council had no more right to hire the municipal engineer from being a street cleaner than from being a tailor.

The mover asked for motion to pay the $62 bill submitted to the municipality by Esquimalt Service Ltd. for rental of the sweeping machine.

"I would like to see Coun. Argyle up the responsibility for it," pointed Coun. Carey.

"No matter how forthcoming and Coun. Argyle contemplated a motion to the effect that the account be referred to the finance committee for report."

Leading the applause for national Social Credit leader Solon Low at a luncheon attended by some 200 party followers here yesterday is Premier W. A. C. Bennett. Mrs. Bennett is in the background. The Social Credit leader spoke here then on his way to Fort Kamloops. (Story below.)

Esquimalt council last night gave a favorable ear on the question of a museum of British Columbia and some expenditure on a public parking on Lampson.

The museum expected to cost about $[illegible] was suggested by Council [illegible] Parks Board as a centennial project.

Mr. [illegible] reporting for the board said that the museum would cost about $[illegible] from the provincial government to be matched by costs.

Industrial equipment such as the original locomotive, the company's locomotives and steam engines, early fishing vessels and other equipment that contributed to the phenomenal industrial growth of this province during the last 100 years, would be placed in the building.

Low Blasts 'Paltry' Hike

'Impossible to Live On Pension of $46'

Failure of the Liberal government to recognize the fact that thousands of old-age pensioners were living below the borderline of poverty and to take appropriate steps to relieve the situation was attacked yesterday by Solon Low, national Social Credit leader.

See other story on page [illegible]

"It is physically impossible for any single person without other sources of support to live decently on the $46 a month pension provided by the federal government," he said. "And it will be impossible on July 1 when the paltry six dollars a month increase comes effective."

Mr. Low was speaking at a luncheon of some 200 Social Credit members and members at Lampson's Barge at Harrison Hot Springs yesterday.

Independently for presumption [illegible] pensioners [illegible] the federal government [illegible] necessary for the pensioner [illegible] the federal government [illegible] to the pensioner, he said.

Mr. Low said [illegible] the federal government [illegible] of the pensioner [illegible] not be faced with poverty if they had saved money while they were working.

"Social Credit believes that [illegible] pensioners [illegible] just attempt to live [illegible] government," he said.

He said the current high cost of living and the [illegible] pensions made it [illegible] for the old age.

Mr. Low pointed out that if [illegible] the federal [illegible] $46 provided by the [illegible] Social Credit would [illegible] $[illegible] a month.

He said the government [illegible] to set aside $[illegible] ride side saddle.

Speaking of culture Mr. Low said there was no group representing the people as a whole in Canada today. He said W. A. C. Bennett was one of the value of culture development than Social Credit.

"But we believe you cannot buy and sell culture across the counter with dollars and cents," Mr. Low declared. "We believe that culture must spring spontaneously from within the people of our country and it cannot be forced on a nation by a group of politicians.

"We believe that the present [illegible] a society for mediocrity," he said.

Hottest Day So Far

Yesterday's high of 71 degrees was the highest temperature recorded this year, but the weatherman forecasts a change for today.

Forecast high is only 62, and a few cloudy periods are forecast during the day.

Beaches and parks drew the year's largest crowds Sunday when the mercury rose to 67.

A long range forecast issued by the U.S. weather office in Washington calls for higher than normal temperatures over the entire month of May.

West Coast Port Promised Help

PORT RENFREW — Construction of a more centrally located and better protected harbor at Port Renfrew if the Conservatives are elected June 10 was pledged last night by Major-Gen. George P. Pearkes, VC, at a meeting in the West Coast town.

General Pearkes, Conservative candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, said as soon as the party was elected the government would call a Commonwealth conference and the first item on the agenda would be a step-up in trade relations with Commonwealth countries.

These would particularly benefit Coast people and hundreds of jobs which would be created would affect points on the West Coast, he said.

He said the Port Renfrew fishing fleet was being forced to go out to Ucluelet, and further into the Pacific for fish and that boats would be the larger and have more modern equipment.

The existing harbor at Port Renfrew was rather primitive, he said.

General Pearkes will speak at Campbell River tonight to help Conservative candidate Harold Merchant. Mr. Merchant, in the Comox-Alberni riding, and in Wednesday will journey to Nanaimo where he will support the candidacy of Walter Matthews.

ALBERNI — Three persons are still in hospital to among two collisions on the Island Highway on the weekend. Four cars were extensively damaged.

Pete Hoppe and Ingrid Meyerink are reported by RCMP to have been the drivers of vehicles which collided near Berry's Corner Saturday night. Hoppe was released from West Coast General Hospital after treatment for cuts and bruises. A passenger in his car, Harry Williams, who suffered concussion, is still detained.

Vehicles driven by Dennis Hinman, Port Alberni, and Philip Waines, Alberni, were in a collision on Spout Lake Road Sunday evening. Hinman suffered a fractured knee and Miss Leslie Cushman, a passenger in his car, received face cuts. Both are patients in West Coast General Hospital and are reported in good condition.

NANAIMO—Jack Southern, a former Brannan Lake supervisor, was committed for county court trial on a public mischief charge following the conclusion of a preliminary hearing here yesterday.

Southern, police alleged, laid a complaint against four unknown assailants for assault. Yesterday, witnesses said Southern started a fracas in Nanaimo's Chinatown which sent him to hospital for emergency treatment.

Children Injured In Car Collision

COURTENAY—Two young girls were rushed to Comox Hospital Saturday after the car in which they were passengers driven by Roy D. Simms, of Headquarters, was in collision with one driven by H. Jones of Courtenay.

The girls, Sally Simms, 4, and her sister, Marion, 11, suffered shock, cuts and bruises.

Owner Singed In Blazing Boat

PORT ALICE (CP)—John Cashen was starting the engine of his 16-foot inboard speedboat Sunday when it backfired and burst into flames. Cashen had his hair singed as flames swept from the motor.

The boat was tied up at the mail boat pier, and after unsuccessful efforts to subdue the flames, it was cut loose.

A fiery hazard, it drifted towards the pier ramp when John Bryant roped the hull from his own boat and towed it towards the beach. A police boat and a mill plant boat extinguished the flames.

The speedboat skeleton sank in shallow water and tools and equipment were salvaged at low tide.

Cashen, an industrial pipeworker, came here from Vancouver six months ago.

What's Cooking!

By Frances Thompson

Sons, Too, Should Learn To Help Mother in Kitchen

During last weekend your delightful letters were being read, sometimes re-read, as a means of getting to know you better, and to understand your household problems which everyone of us has to a greater or lesser degree. So don't let them depress you and insofar as is possible we'll cope with them all by degrees in this column or else by mail.

Do you remember a week or so ago I was talking about the advisability of letting your daughters learn to cook? Well how stupid I was. Naturally I should have mentioned the possibilities of young sons learning also.

After all, practically every world-famous chef is of the male species. Needless to say, the correspondence was quite heavy on the subject. No, not irate letters at all—very nice ones in fact from daughterless mothers to whom my advice therefore did not apply. But having been born and brought up as one of six girls I know of what I speak. So to those many other readers to whom this may be of real concern I'm going to quote from one of the letters . . . "It was interesting to read your column about letting one's daughters help in the kitchen. Much as we'd love one, we have no girls, but our eldest son aged nearly 8, is quite interested in helping me.

"He has made cake and cookies and helped with other preparations. And of course all three like cutting out sugar cookies or rolling cookie balls.

It is a good training for them as I think there is nothing worse than a helpless husband. Here, here! and good luck to you my friend and here's hoping all three boys will grow up like your capable 'better half' you so happily describe.

Talking of children, if they have their main meal at midday they don't need anything too heavy before going to bed and vice versa, though naturally this is dependent on their age. And as mate of yours knows only too well, with all the spring-time outdoor activity it's farther to what some of them can consume.

My first suggestion for either lunch or supper is a satisfying borsch or soup which is easy [illegible]

LEEK AND CELERY SOUP

[illegible]

[illegible] or chopped mint for a more novel flavor.

Some sort of fresh or cooked fruit would follow splendidly after a borsch. Soup like that especially if accompanied by a wholesome cake for children. We are indebted to Mrs. G. H. C. for this one which I'll repeat just as she gave it to me with my grateful thanks.

ORANGE CAKE

Four ounces (half a pound) butter, [illegible] (2 cups) sugar, [illegible] (2 cups) cake flour, 3 eggs, 1 orange, grated rind and juice, [illegible] baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs one at a time, not [illegible] beforehand. Then add orange juice and rind. Stir in [illegible] flour and baking powder sifted twice. I bake mine, she says, in a greased and paper-lined round loaf tin at [illegible] degrees about 40 minutes or until done. Ice it if desired but we like it plain. This is a light delicate cake and SLITHER KEPT FOR TWO DAYS BEFORE GETTING [illegible]. Again many thanks Mrs. G. H. C. [illegible] and for your [illegible] appreciated criticism. [illegible] letter was written a great many weeks ago, please forgive.

TRICK OF THE DAY

A Lovelier You

Most Flattering Colors

By MARY SUE MILLER

There can be a great deal of flattery for your figure in the colors you wear. Dress in dark or low keyed shades and you appear slimmer. For increased stature wear bright or light hues.

Be wary, though, of any color favoring your figure over your face. When clashes occur compromise, always wear a color that enhances your face but on a version that also enhances your figure. For example, a bright red plays up your face but overplays your hips, compromise with ruby red. That way, your complexion loses nothing, your hips lose a bit and you gain loveliness.

YOUR MOST FLATTERING COLORS

In fashion nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure. It can express your individuality and style. Learn how to wear color to best advantage. A Matter of Timing

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One of the most important jobs to be tackled these days is the clearing out of the spring-flowering plants in the flower beds, replacing them with summer-flowering annuals.

It requires a well-developed sense of timing to decide just the best time to tackle this operation in order to remove the dishevelled from the spring display without waiting so long that nurserymen are sold out of summer bedding plants.

What do you do with the old plants removed from the beds? It depends on what kind of plants you grew. English and Siberian wallflowers are seldom worth keeping, and as they are members of the cabbage family and are therefore capable of perpetuating the dreaded club root disease, I figure the best place for them is on the garden bonfire.

Forget-me-nots have a happy faculty of ripening their seeds even after the plants are pulled up, and this habit can be put to good use. Rake over a bit of soil in a shady part of the garden — say, under the spreading branches of a shrub — and throw down your pulled-up forget-me-not plants on this loose dirt.

By Dominion Day that ground will be covered with hundreds of strong seedlings from seeds ripened and sown by the dying plants, and these can be transplanted into nursery beds to await fall planting.

Primroses and polyanthuses are good for at this time of year. They but they need a period of rest and recuperation after the strain of flowering, and they need to get out of strong sunshine for the summer. These should be lifted carefully from their sunny flowering quarters taking a good ball of earth around the roots, and transplanted into a shady bed.

This shouldn't be a gloomy kind of shade as from low overhanging tree branches, but either an open position on the north side of a wall or in a woodland glade dotted with little spots of sunshine filtering through the leaves.

The soil for the primulas' summer quarters should be woodsy. Anything from sandy loam to fairly stiff clay can be brought into suitable condition if lots of half-rotted leafmould is dug in.

With a mixed bag of polyanthus plants it pays to be just a little bit fussy as to where plants are saved and where will be given the old heave-ho over the back fence. Out of any group [illegible] a few plants with big flowers and flowing colours.

There will also be a certain quota of sheer junk plants which aren't fit even to be given away to the neighbors, with harsh or washy-washy colors and poor habits of growth.

The poor relations are best consigned to the compost heap. The good enough types are planted out in their summer rest camp, watering them in carefully with a few drops of [illegible] in the water. [illegible] divided first, thereby giving a higher proportion of first-class plants in next spring's display.

The Viewing World

An Age-Old Problem

The Puerto Ricans who have flooded New York City may seem like a rather special problem to people outside New York and not worthy of all the attention do[illegible] to it on "See It Now" Sunday night. But the fact is that it is a universal problem that happens to have centered on New York, [illegible] context and could happen anywhere else.

It is an age-old problem, really. A host of outsiders descend on a city. They are poverty-stricken, and foreign (not necessarily alien but strange); their customs and sometimes even their language is different. At best they are not liked by the residents of their new city. At worst they are hated and feared.

* * *

Right at the outset "See It Now" showed an obviously decent woman saying—with the utmost reluctance—that she didn't want Puerto Ricans as her next-door neighbors: they were noisy, unclean and much as she hated to [illegible] dangerous.

From bigots you expect this sort of talk but when decent people get to feeling this way and many decent folk in New York do feel that way, [illegible] Puerto Ricans whose monthly [illegible] this city have swelled from [illegible] 000 to 600,000 in a few years, then you have a problem indeed.

Beautiful as Puerto Rico is, there are not enough miles of it for the teeming population. And overcrowded as Manhattan is it seems inviting to the Puerto Ricans largely because it is only a $60 airline ticket away, and the $60 claims may be paid for on the installment plan.

The "See It Now" crews prowled around Manhattan and came up with some perfect shots of the overcrowded and filthy and noisy city. This particular [illegible] "See It Now" was shown Sunday night in Puerto Rico. I devoutly hope [illegible] people in a great many Puerto Ricans who had intended descending on us.

There are shots of four-room apartments with [illegible] people living in them [illegible] passing weeks and [illegible] years and [illegible] of the best examples of [illegible] I have ever seen.

Says a teen-age girl: "The violence that goes on among their teen-agers is frightening. Fights every day. It makes me not want to raise my children in New York City." Says another one of Chelsea where the Puerto Ricans have moved in: "It used to be a nice neighborhood 30 years ago. Now it's not as clean—it is safe [illegible] one [illegible] of the [illegible] Puerto [illegible] Puerto Ricans [illegible] Puerto Ricans are good and reliable workers."

In all of his shows Edward R. Murrow has at least suggested a solution of whatever problem he happens to be tackling and I'm happy to say that this was done this time, too.

The problem is simple: a sterilization pill for every Puerto Rican who does not have [illegible] to afford [illegible] the Planned Parenthood Association [illegible] "to educate the people" to have the number they want to have and can afford to have."

Jayne Bulges in Bikini

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Elvis Presley and Yvonne Lime are discussing the big gap. "Elvis has asked me how much I care for him," Yvonne the pert girl with the red cap in "The Rainmaker"—told me under a drier at Westmore's. "We care for each other very much."

Yvonne recently spent a week with Presley and family in Tennessee. "We have decided not to rush anything. We are both 22 years old. And our careers mean a lot to us." Also, before Elvis reports to the army in the fall he will make two more pictures—"Jailhouse Rock" for Metro, for which he gets $250,000 and 50 per cent of the profits, and "Sing you Sinners" for Hal Wallis.

* * *

Sultry Sophia Loren isn't quite sure how to take American love-making. First she had middle-aged Alan Ladd in "Boy on a Dolphin." Then 49-year-old John Wayne in "Legend of the Lost." And now she has burly Burl Ives as her husband in Paramount's Eugene O'Neill pic, "Desire Under the Elms."

* * *

Jayne Mansfield was asked to go home and put on more clothes when she arrived bulging in a security boots at a swimming party in the valley. "I don't mind myself," her hostess explained, "but my guests would be horrified." So she put Mickey Hargitay took Jayne home—brought her back in a one-piecer, and spent most of the afternoon massaging her back.

* * *

Can you see Kim Novak as a girl evangelist? Producer Robert Franklyn does. He will try to interest Kim for his "Angel Baby," with screenplay by press agent-writer Orin Borsten.

* * *

Judy Garland and Frank Sinatra have made up their quarrel which started because Judy's manager booked her into a hotel other than the Sands in Las Vegas. Judy says she won't be losing any weight for a while. "I'm happy and have enough strength to beat out the songs."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3 N.T.	All Pass

Opening lead: Diamond deuce.

South rather regretted his selection of three no-trump for the opening bid when a look at dummy hinted that there might have been a somewhat better play for four spades. However, the 150 aces that influenced his choice and that would assuage the penalty if he were defeated also provided the additional one point extra in the count of values which put the hand at 25 points and justified the three no-trump opening. With this comfort declarer determined to make the best of matters. And indeed he did!

Declarer counted two diamond tricks, three spades if that suit broke favorably, and two more aces, to bring the total to seven. To win nine tricks he needed to win a finesse in hearts and either establish a long heart or get an endplay in clubs. For all of this, he could count upon getting into dummy just once with the fourth round of spades. Obviously, he was going to need some collaboration from the enemy.

After cashing the top spades, South made the key play. He cashed his second high diamond before leading the third spade. If West won the third spade he could not collect his high diamonds without establishing dummy's fifth diamond as a winner. If East won the spade he would have to help declarer by leading a club or a heart.

West's heart discard on the third spade was logical, but it also was helpful to declarer. East returned the jack of hearts in spite of his partner's low heart. This was the right play but it did not help. South won with the queen, cashed the ace, crossed to dummy's six of spades and played the diamond that threw West in. After winning his diamond tricks West had to lead a club and South, discarding behind East, was certain to make the two tricks that would round out his contract.

WINNING POINTS: Holding a high card can prove embarrassing. If South had failed to cash the high diamond before leading the third spade East could safely exit with a diamond and the contract could be defeated.

Forest Week May 18-25

Provincial cabinet yesterday proclaimed the week of May 18 to May 25 as "Forest Conservation Week."

Purpose of the week is to convince people of the dangers of forest fires and the ruin it can cause in an industry which provides half the annual income of the residents of B.C.

More than 60 per cent of the forest fires which ravage the province each year are caused by man and could be prevented if care was taken in the forests.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

For Sid Caesar's last show (it's being cancelled after May 26 the end of this season) fans of this wonderful comic have a chance to see their favorite Caesar routines.

Caesar said at the end of his show Saturday [illegible] guests to Sid Caesar NBC-TV 30 Rockefeller Plaza New York. Some of the routines are the German professor, Blast Video Theatre, Three Haircuts, Commuters, Italian operas, Cool Cees, Japanese movies and the radio dance band of Sonny Dunn.

This Writer intends to vote for the Haircuts. Caesar's sharpest satire and the professor, his funniest stage routine.

* * *

"I Wake Up Screaming," a movie mystery that introduced the late Laird Cregar, is a viewing highlight today. So are the Dinah Shore show and a few other movies, but in general it's a quiet day.

* * *

WEEKEND PREVIEW: The new Friday night CBC music show, replacing Terry Dale, tried to crowd an Omnibus on jazz and a variety hour into 30 minutes. The show, called Cool Pepper after bandleader Dave Pepper, was best when it dealt with jazz.

* * *

Some opinions about TV:

Comic up the hard way, still is the best way for singers, says Gordon MacRae. These days, he says, "a flashy kid suddenly is a hotshot, but he doesn't last long, and in a couple of months they can't remember his name."

Jules Powers, producer of Mr. Wizard, says children's shows will disappear unless sponsors realize children aren't as awed by commercials as they used to be. He says persons don't realize the minds "today's boys have become divided among several stars and several products."

Assistant Attorney-General Victor Hansen of the U.S. Justice department: "Our chief concern and responsibility in the TV industry is to assure that TV broadcasters are economically unrestrained in their efforts to provide the viewing public with the best program fare available."

* * *

"Twenty-one? How wonderful! A new card game based on the TV show."

IS NOTED FOR ITS GENEROUS TRADE-INS— EASY TERMS— "WRITTEN GUARANTEES"—

NOTE—

On the following 4 you will receive an over-allowance on your trade-in. They have been on the lot for over 10 days so the salesmen have been ordered to sell them immediately. Here's your chance.

'56 BUICK
Four-Door Sedan. Done only 11,000 miles. One-owner car. Smartly color styled in flamingo red and ebony black. Matching two-toned red and black Vinyl upholstery. Foam rubber seats. Tires in excellent shape. Power steering, custom radio, custom heater, turn indicators, side-view mirror, powerful Buick V-8 engine. Inside and out this car is in perfect condition. Nice to own—worth looking after. This is a prestige car $2995

'56 MONARCH
Lincoln Sports 4-Door Sedan. Has the new, very low lines of the '57s. The smartest of all the models. Low mileage. Beautifully two-toned in buckskin tan and colonial white. Two-tone Vinyl and nylon matching upholstery. Interior immaculately kept. Turn signals, custom radio, custom heater, air conditioner, electric clock. Famous Ford automatic transmission, twin fender mount mirrors, whitewall tires, good for thousands of carefree miles. Chrome wheel discs. Twin exhausts, backup lights. Powerful 225-horsepower Monarch V-8 engine in excellent condition. This car is a standout in any company, one you'll love to drive. New price over $4,000. With National's generous trade-in allowance and the low asking price, it's bound to go fast. Phone a salesman at home now and ask him to hold it till you see it. Only $3295

'56 ANGLIA
2-Door Sedan—If—you're looking for a top quality British car that will give you from 35 to 40 miles to the gallon, then see this right away. Smartly styled in tones of white and green with matching green vinyl upholstery. Interior in perfect condition. Turn signals, custom heater, air-conditioner. Twin fender mirrors. Tires in excellent shape. On these cars they seem to last forever. This car has the modern American styling and was designed for our Canadian roads. It's a dandy. Licence No. 50-336. See it on the lot now. Only $1295

'56 CONSUL
4-Door Sedan. Here's a smooth performing, real economy car. Seats 6. One-owner car, done only 6,000 miles. In every way this is new car value. See its smart sage green finish ... harmonizing tan vinyl upholstery—this is the material that holds its looks, wears forever. Foam rubber padding, turn signals. Heater - air - conditioner. Tires, motor, every last detail is tops. This is your chance. You get a practically new car at a real saving. Generous trade-in and easy terms, too. Only $1795

'51 CHEVROLET
2-Door Sedan. You'll like this family car. Not a scratch on it. The paint is in perfect condition. Attractively tuned in azure sun royal blue. Matching tutone seat covers. Heater-air-conditioner for cozy driving. Good tires. At this price it will be snapped up. Better hurry $995

'53 CONSUL
4-Door Sedan. You'll like its Autumn tan finish with the harmonizing red vinyl upholstery. Turn signals for closed car driving. Custom heater, air conditioner for added comfort. This is a well-built car of British engineering—gives you almost twice the mileage per gallon of the American cars. Smart whitewall tires in good condition. Phone a salesman listed below now. This type of car is hard to get and is in great demand. Have it held till you get down. No obligation of course. This is a well-kept, one-owner car $995

'53 FORD
4 Door Sedan. Here's a very nice car—worth looking after. One you'll be proud to drive. See its metallic green finish. You'll like its 2-tone matching one-covers. Your friends will admire the good buy you made when they see its well-kept interior. Turn signals and heater for cozy driving. Good tires. Powerful Ford V-8 motor in excellent condition. This is a low-mileage car which means added miles of carefree driving for you. Better phone or get down right away. Licence No. 54058. Only $1395

'49 PONTIAC
Torpedo Tudor Sedan. This is a de luxe model car, with a very handsome dash. There are many reasons why this car will be sold immediately. It has been smartly refinished in metallic sky blue. Very easy to drive because the entire front end has been rebuilt. To add to its value the motor has been reconditioned. The interior is in dandy shape. Turn signals. Custom radio, custom heater. Outside sun visor. Good tires. This car has been reconditioned to sell immediately. Licence No. is 42938. Phone or drop in now $895

Swedish Princess Smiles at Romance

STOCKHOLM — Princess Margaretha of Sweden "is smiling" over the excitement caused by her romance with Robin Douglas-Home, 25, court officials said Monday.

Douglas-Home, a nephew of the Earl of Home, tinkled love songs on the piano in a swank London cocktail bar as usual and refused to talk about the apparently hopeless romance.

Mill Rate Rise Likely

Business to Pay $460,000

City council decided yesterday that business should pay $160,000 more this year into city coffers, and came to the verge of deciding on a 46-mill tax rate, up 1½ mills from last year's.

Decision on the extra gross amount to be raised this year — business through institution of business tax, likely will stand when council continues its deliberations today. But there is a chance that the tax rate may be set at 45.5 mills instead of 46, meaning that ordinary taxes would rise about 2 per cent.

The $160,000 extra contribution from business will save general taxpayers about 1½ mills on the tax rate they would otherwise face.

$300,000 PAID

Last year business paid $300,000 in trades-licence fees. This year the fees will be credited against business tax, but $460,000 will be collected altogether.

In all, with a few items including grants to be considered, council cut $153,000 from a provisional budget that originally called for a 4½-mill tax increase, and added $44,000.

Debate on the business tax opened with a suggestion from Ald. Elmer McEwen that it should bring in about two mills more than trades licences. Ald. J. Donald Smith suggested that council should set a minimum of $500,000 from the two sources.

Ald. Austin Curtis said city wages were up by about $120,000 and school costs up slightly this year, and he thought the taxpayers should expect to pay those extra costs.

Business tax, he suggested, should take up the remainder of the potential mill-rate increase.

"If we raise an extra $100,000, we are increasing the business fees by a third," said Ald. Edgelow.

"Not exactly," said Ald. Smith. Some large firms for years had been paying only 10 per cent of what they should, and would now pay a fair share.

Ald. Smith held out for a minimum of $500,000 in business tax or trades licences "and possibly the cost (of administration) as well," and moved that a $500,000 minimum be set.

On Ald. Ramsay's suggestion he changed the amendment to "two mills more than the trades licences," or a total of $460,000.

Council approved the amendment by a vote of 7 to 2.

STORY BEHIND THE CATCH

There are two reasons discriminating men select Black Magic Chocolates. One is that the centres are delightful, each the chosen favourite of 3,000 people. Second is Black Magic Chocolates are truly superb. Surprisingly enough, Rowntrees can sell these luxury chocolates at the modest price of ordinary candy because of the simplicity of that famous black box. Next time—buy Black Magic.

A layer of toffee, then to top it—creamy mallow. That's Toffee and Mallow, one of the twelve gorgeous Black Magic centres.

Both have a bank account - and a purpose for saving

Nurse and father both agree that some things are too important to leave to chance. So, like most Canadians, each uses a chartered bank for planned saving, making regular deposits to accomplish a definite purpose.

Your own savings plan may be a short-term, modest one — maybe a vacation trip, or new drapes for the living room. Or your goal may be long-range, like providing more security, greater comfort and independence for you and your family.

But whatever use you find for the money you save, you'll always be glad you saved it!
